DRYS RULE IN CONGRESS

Some States Vote Wet but Elect Drys to Senate and House

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1926 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Although there was a much more intense fight than usual on the prohibition issue in some states, the general statement may be made that the net change so far as the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment or the Volstead act as a result of the elections Tuesday is about a stand-off between the wets and drys.

Latest figures indicate that the drys will have approximately 300 votes out of 435 in the house of representatives and about 70 out of 96 in the senate.
This is in excess of the necessary two-thirds required to submit to the states an amendment to the Eighteenth amendment and of the majority necessary to keep the Volstead act unamended.

PARADOX OF ELECTIONS

Some of the states presented paradoxical results. They voted wet on the referendum but elected dry members to the senate and house.

In Illinois, the referendum asked congress to change the Volstead act.
The Anti-Saloon League asked its supporters to ignore the referendum and concentrate on the election of the drys. So Frank Smith, dry, was elected United States senator and two congressmen-at-large, who are dry, were elected.

NO CHANGE IN WISCONSIN

In Wisconsin both senators are wet and the state has always been counted on as on the wet side so there was no important change here.

In New York the wets have been in control for some time. They elected a wet United States senator who is a Democrat. The referendum vote of the state in favor of modification of the Volstead act is in keeping with the attitude of the state in refusing to adopt the enforcement act.
Missouri voted dry on the referendum but elected a "wet" as United States senator, Harry B. Hawes, who has represented a St. Louis district in the house of representatives. Missouri refused to repeal the state enforcement act.

COLORADO IS DRY

Colorado also declined to repeal the state enforcement code and elected a dry senator. Complete returns from Montana and California are not available at this writing but it looks as if the effort to repeal the state enforcement code would succeed in Montana and also in California, though the vote will be close.

NEVADA BY REFERENDUM ADOPTED

A resolution calling on congress to call a constitutional convention to consider changing the 18th amendment. Nevada has been operating without state enforcement act so can hardly be considered a dry state.

THE IMPORTANT FACT TO BE BORNE IN mind is that no out-and-out dry state voted wet and no wet state turned about face and voted dry.

ZUEHLKE ELECTED

BY 491 MAJORITY

No Decision Yet on Whether Recount Will Be Demanded

Otto H. Zuehlke was elected sheriff by a majority of 491 votes, according to official figures established by the board of canvassers Friday morning.

Mr. Zuehlke received 7,219 ballots against 6,728 for Earl G. Schwartz, independent candidate, the canvass indicates.

At noon Friday it had not been decided whether a recount would be demanded. If it was to be petitioned the reason given would be that friends of the defeated candidate have expressed a belief that in several instances votes which might have counted for Mr. Schwartz were disqualified on the grounds that the voter marked his ballot for a straight Republican party vote and also crossed in the space indicating a vote for Mr. Schwartz.

DERANGED MAN KILLS

TWO YOUNG CHILDREN

Escanaba, Mich. —(AP)—Two children were the victims of Joseph Kain when he became temporarily deranged Thursday. The children, Joseph, 4, and Mary, 2, and then killed himself by the triple combination of stabbing, poisoning and shooting.

SEVEN METHODIST PASTORS ARE HEIRS TO BREWERY STOCK

Toronto, Ont. —(AP)—The will of Charles Vance Millar, lawyer and sportsman, in which he left brewery stock to Methodist ministers and Ontario Jockey club shares to persons opposed to horse racing was regarded by his friends as a joke. They said he intended to make another will, but no indication of another was available Friday. Mr. Millar died last Saturday.

The document, drawn up in 1921, disposes of an estate estimated at $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. It provides that the proceeds of the estate after nine years be given to parents of the largest family born in the province during that time.

Ontario Jockey club shares valued at $35,000 are left to three men, all of whom are opposed to horse racing. These beneficiaries must hold the shares for three years and draw dividends.

O'Keefe Beverages stock, worth $750,000, is left to seven Methodist ministers. To retain the stock they must draw dividends on it and vote in the management of the company.
Another bequest of $10,000 to a Catholic priest is for masses for the soul of a prominent citizen "who will need them wherever he is."

YOUTH LEADS DREARY LIFE, LIPPMAN SAYS

Modern Young People Not Happy, New York Editor Tells Teachers

Milwaukee —(AP)—Modern youth, with its cocktails and jazz leads a dreary existence and is continually haunted by a sense of futility, Walter Lippman, editor of the New York World, declared Friday before the Wisconsin Teachers' association convention. In spite of the whirl of stimulated entertainment, carried on by the young people, he said, they are not happy but instead cast a cynical eye upon the older generation and the latter's uninteresting problems. Ten thousand teachers thronged the auditorium for the second general session of the state meeting, the two principal addresses being delivered by Mr.
Lippman and Will Irwin, New York, author and journalist.

"The young people are no longer governed by older moral traditions," Mr. Lippman asserted, "and they are no longer inspired by ancient principles. Sex relations are not to be considered evil but rather inevitable."

LOOKING FOR NEW

"Taking motor cars, radio and other modern developments for granted, the younger generation looks for something more and that something must consist of things which do not grow stale no matter how long they are used."

"It is the task of the educators and the educated people to introduce the youth of America into the ideal world of contemplation the world where our sciences and our arts alone endure."

Will Irwin cited the power of press in moulding public opinion and in giving day by day education to the masses.
The loss in power of the editorial, replaced by the news story, was also declared to be the outgrowth of more potent journalism.

HOUDINI'S SECRETS TO LIVE FOR GENERATION

New York —(AP)—Harry Houdini's secrets of legerdemain live after him, but only for this generation, James Collins, his assistant and technical adviser, and Mrs. Houdini, who according to a signed statement made by the latter Friday, are the only ones in possession of all the magician's secrets and illusions and will carry his secrets to their graves, as was Houdini's wish.

Soviet Woman Diplomat Is Refused Entry In U. S.

Washington, D. C. —(AP)—The executive order of President Woodrow Wilson, barring advocates of anarchy, revolution or agitation from the United States, has been invoked by the state department to refuse entry to Soviet Russia's sole woman diplomat, Mme. Alexandra Kollontay, from passing through this country on her way to her new post as minister to Mexico.

Madame Kollontay, former Soviet minister in Norway, is in Berlin and had applied to the American consul general there for a passport visa which would have permitted her to visit the United States. The request was denied by the consul general, with the full approval of the state department on the ground that Mme.
Kollontay was "one of the outstanding members of the Russian Communist party and a member of the third congress of the Communist Internationale, who has been actively accused for her part in the International Communist subversive movement." She is the daughter of a famous Russian general but has embraced Bolshevism.
Secretary Kellogg has formulated a policy forbidding all foreign service officers of the United States to grant visas except when the applicant makes it evident that there is reasonable necessity for entry into the United States and that the presence of the visitor would not be prejudicial to the interests of government or society.

Instead of entering the United States Madame Kollontay will be compelled to choose a direct route to Mexico City or enter the country by way of Guatemala.

BEGIN DRIVE AGAINST VARE SENATE SEAT

Norris, Nebraska, Charges Pennsylvanian Was Elected by "Machine"

Washington —(AP)—The drive against seating William S. Vare, Legislator in the seventh congress, has opened. Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska who spoke in Pennsylvania on behalf of William B. Wilson, the Democratic senatorial candidate, because of alleged excessive campaign expenditures by the Republicans, declared here that Senator Vare, although technically elected had been reputed by the "honest patriotic people" of the state, and that the Philadelphia "machine" had functioned as usual, the results in some precincts having been announced before any votes were cast.

Meanwhile the Committee of Seventy, an unofficial body in Philadelphia, was preparing to make an investigation in a number of Philadelphia precincts where Mr. Wilson was not credited with a single vote. Members of the committee attached much importance to official returns which credit Wilson with no votes in 44 divisions in that city and with only one vote in each of a number of other divisions.

EXPECT DISCUSSION WEDNES-

DAY

Discussion of the Pennsylvania situation is expected to be renewed here Wednesday when the senate returns from the adjournment to receive George W. English, federal judge for the eastern district of Illinois.

Belated and scattering returns overnight failed to change the party lineup in the seventeenth house, which remains: Republicans, 230; Democrats, 255; Farmer-Labor, 2; Socialist, 1; and undecided, one. A total of 218 is necessary for a majority. The senate of the seventeenth congress will show 47 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor, with one vacancy from Maine to be filled at a special election on Nov. 29.

10-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNS AT NEENAH

Body Is Recovered About Two Hours After Accident

Slipping from the abutment of the Neenah and Menasha Waterway Co. into the Fox river at Neenah, Earl Deauvall, 10-year-old son of Mr.
and Mrs. Jay Deauvall, E. Columbia ave., Neenah, was drowned at 12:30 Friday afternoon.

The body disappeared from sight almost as soon as it struck the water, the swift current from two open gates keeping the body under the surface.
The body was found at 2:05 about 50 feet from where it struck the water, lodged against some rocks.

Earl and his brother, Edward, 14, were fishing from the dam. The younger of the two boys climbed to the bottom of the dam to try a new location, but slipped from the abutment as he reached the bottom.

The older brother, unable to swim, called for help, but when no one came he ran to the police station where he informed the officers of the accident.

Citizens joined the officers in dragging the river for the body.
The youth is survived by two brothers,
Edward and Donald; one sister,
Ethel, and his parents.

TRACE BLOODY MURDER TRAIL IN SUPERIOR

Authorities Work to Solve Mystery of Taxi-driver's Death

Superior —(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of a watchman on the Great Lakes merchandise steamer, W.
J. Connors, was being investigated Friday in connection with the discovery Thursday night in the north end of the city of James Mahar, 32, Duluth cab driver, with a bullet through his heart.

A blood-spattered trail in the snow followed Friday morning indicated that the slayer took refuge in the maze of freight cars in adjoining railroad yards. Duluth authorities dismissed all theories that a woman was connected in the case. Mahar had received a call for his cab, it was when he had gone to answer this that he was last seen.

FREIGHT CONDUCTOR

IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Body of Baraboo Man Is Found on Tracks Near Janesville Thursday

Madison —(AP)—Ray Littlejohn, 45, Baraboo freight train conductor, was killed Thursday night at Afton, near Janesville, presumably by his own train, on the Chicago and Northwestern line. The body of the conductor was found by two members of his train crew.

Littlejohn left his train at Janesville, telling his crew to proceed to Afton and return later to Janesville.
While the brakemen were switching at Afton, they came upon his body.

The commission also authorized the C. B. & Q. to reconstruct their lines eliminating grades and crossings and building double track from a point 4½ miles north of the Green Bay and Western Railroad line at East Winona to Purdy.

PIG WOMAN IS CONFINED TO HOSPITAL BED

Former Member of State Police Is Brought to Somerville to Testify

Somerville, N. J. —(AP)—Henry L.
Dickman, former member of the state police, who alleged he was bribed to quit his investigation four years ago of the Rev. Edward Wheelwright, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills was brought to Somerville Friday to testify for the state.

Dickman was a
case when the state police were introduced to the testimonies of other investigators had ceased. In the spring of 1923 he disappeared.

The first photograph of the Rev. Mr.
Hall, his vestments as a priest of the Episcopal church was brought into the case Friday and was accepted as an exhibit.

EXHIBIT PHOTOGRAPHS

Photographs of the scene of the killing and of the surrounding territory were introduced. Senator Clarence E. Case of the counsel for defense, in cross-examination questioned on the distances between the Phillips farmhouse, DeRussey's lane and other points frequently mentioned.
As if laying the groundwork for an attack on the expected testimony of Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's eyewitness had seen of the killings, he brought out the fact that the underbrush was heavy and that it was impossible to see the farm house from the lane. The bodies were found beneath a crabapple tree, not far from the house.

MRS. GIBSON IS ILL

The precarious health of Mrs. Gibson, and the opinion of a doctor based on autopsies that the murderers of Mrs. Eleanor Mills had torn her tongue out by the roots, gave them the excuse for the delay in the unfolding drama of the Hall-Mills murder mystery.

Mrs. Gibson, raiser of pigs and former circus rider, who claims to have viewed the double slaying, was dangerously ill in the summer hospital.
The prosecution's hope of building the strongest possible case fluctuated inversely to her high temperature.

Dr. Otto H. Schulze who performed autopsies of the body of Mills and the Rev. Dr. Edward Hall revealed the gist of what his testimony on the stand would be.

HE FOUND, HE SAID, THAT CHIRP

slender tongue and the larynx containing the vocal chords, had been torn out by a hand thrust far down into the throat either at the time she was killed or shortly thereafter.

The court refused to adjourn to the hospital to get Mrs. Gibson's testimony that she saw the three defendants—Mrs. Hall, the rector's widow, and her two brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens—at the scene of the murder.

The prosecutor told the court that Mrs. Gibson, which he says is the pig raiser's real name—threatened to lapse into a coma.

He said Mrs. Gibson's testimony was vital to the prosecution, especially as four other witnesses had died since the murder. Defense attorneys objected on the ground that her condition would prevent the severe cross-examination they consider necessary.

STAD OLD BOSTON GETS

Shocked; Students Riot

Boston —(AP)—Five students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology had to appear in court Friday on charges of malicious destruction of property during a sensational riot in Cambridge and Boston.

During a battle with police reserves several thousands of dollars worth of property was destroyed. The trouble started when 400 freshmen attempted to break up the annual sophomore's banquet with tear gas bombs.

The banquet was being held at a gymnasium of the institute in Cambridge. Bombs were hurled through windows by the freshmen and the upper classmen evacuated.

After a few minutes of fighting during which six freshmen became unconscious, an armistice was declared and the students, 600 strong, started for Harvard square. Automobiles and trolly cars were wrecked. The Uni-

12 Illinois Students Are Expelled For Drinking

Women Bootleg Agents Are Reported on Wisconsin University Campus

Chicago —(AP)—On the heels of an announcement that 12 University of Illinois students had been expelled for drinking, gambling and using auto-buses, a story was published Friday by the Herald and Examiner that federal prohibition agents were investigating the sale of liquor to students at a number of colleges in Chicago territory.

Prohibition officials declined to discuss the subject, but the newspaper said women bootleg agents were reported working under cover at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, that a dry agent had departed to investigate drinking at an unnamed Indiana college and under cover workers also were in Urbana and Champaign, home of the University of Illinois. Twelve men students were expelled from the Illinois institution on Wednesday, ten of them for drinking, incident to football games and Thursday night a co-ed was dismissed for remaining out after hours.

At the time of the first action Dean Thomas Arkle Clark, secretary of the council of administration, said
"the council intends to curb drinking, gambling and the use of automobiles by students, and intends to deal seriously with all violators of university rules."

Educators questioned by the paper expressed the opinion that student drinking was still on the rise.
Dr. Max Mason of the University of Chicago, said:

"No students have been expelled to my knowledge since the opening of

COPS FIGHT BANDITS;

THREE ARE WOUNDED

Two Gunmen and Patrolman Shot After Police Set Trap for Robbers

Chicago —(AP)—A patrolman and two gunmen were wounded, one of the latter probably fatally, when gangsters shot their way out of a police trap set Thursday night to thwart the robbery of a drug store stock of liquor and narcotics.

General firing began when the gunmen drove into an alley near the store and discovered the officers all armed and ready after a running fight and the dispersal was fugitives when their automobile was wrecked.

The bandit car bore a Michigan license, but the prisoners are thought to be from Chicago.

One of the men held identified himself as Frank Taylor, 29, who first told the police he was a salesman from Bloomington, Ill., and had been wounded by holdup-men.

WERNER AFFIRMS ORDER TAKING CAR AWAY FROM DRUNK

Circuit Judge Issues Order Confirming Municipal Court Sentence

Judge Edgar V. Werner, circuit judge on Friday affirmed the sentence imposed some time ago by Judge Theodore Berg in the case of Peter Lewis, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, and an order was to be entered Friday by Stanley Steidl, assistant district attorney, in which it will be specified that the municipal court verdict stands.

Judge Berg imposed a fine of $50 and costs and added the usual condition that Mr. Lewis be denied the privilege of driving his automobile for six months. Mr. Lewis, a construction man employed by the Meyer Construction Co., Oshkosh, took particular exception to the latter clause of the sentence and appealed to circuit court. Later he made a tentative offer to plead guilty to the charge if he be allowed to post bond guaranteeing a forfeit of the drunk driver's license within the period of a year, in order that he might use his automobile in a business way.

However, after negotiations failed, Mr. Lewis paid the fine and accrued costs of the appeal, a total of $85, and the final order as directed by Judge Werner.

URGES LIBRARIANS TO ACT AS HISTORIANS

Milwaukee—(AP)—Librarians were advised to gather "grandmothers' letters," old portraits and pictures to make future history more "intimate and personal" in an address by Wilma Johnson of Port Edwards, Wis., before the library division of the Wisconsin teachers association convention here today.

"If history is to be studied in an intimate and personal way," she said, "if we are to see the definite effects so evident all about us as the results of causes not remote, it must be through the study of familiar people and occupations. Causes will not seem remote when they relate to our grandfathers, the village church, city library, or prominent citizens of our home town."

"We librarians must not decide too hastily that no local history material is needed because none is asked for. Ought we not to be missionaries and offer our history of the community to teachers and pupils in hope that it will take root and develop into sympathetic appreciation of pioneer life, which will help students gain an insight into the present?"

"The need for prompt action to secure accurate facts is evident. We must notice how few are left who actually saw pioneer conditions."

NURSES OF 2 DISTRICTS HOLD JOINT CONFERENCE

Miss Eunice Segal, a student at Appleton high school, will give a reading at the joint meeting of the Sixth and Twelfth districts of the Wisconsin Nurses association at St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac Saturday afternoon.

Business meetings of the districts will be held separately, and the reports of delegates to the annual state convention in Madison, Oct. 11, 12 and 13 will be heard. Miss Jane Barclay, assistant school nurse in Appleton, was the delegate from the Sixth district.

A program for the joint meeting has been planned by the nurses of the Sixth district of which Miss Mary Orbison, city school nurse, is president. The state board of health will send a motion picture to be shown and Miss Segal will read.

DRIVER HITTING 25 MILES GOES TO COURT

A charge that he had been speeding in town of Greenville at 45 miles an hour brought a fine of $10 and costs to W. J. Schwaller when he was arraigned before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court late Thursday. Charles Steidl, county motorcycle patrolman, was the complaining witness.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Mostly fair tonight and Saturday, except probably unsettled in northern portion; rising temperature tonight.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Except for low pressure over the northern border states, the pressure is high and the weather fair and cool over the entire country this morning. Light rains or snows have fallen over the extreme northeast section. Low pressure is expected to continue and move eastward slowly, with rising temperature in this section and increasing cloudiness by Saturday, probably becoming somewhat unsettled.

BELOIT ALL STEAMED UP OVER ITS HOMECOMING

Beloit—(AP)—Beloit college is planning its Homecoming celebration for the weekend of Nov. 6, when the hold comrades will meet the Lawrence college eleven. Beloit teams have not lost a homecoming tilt in six years, and although the squad has not made a strong showing so far this season, the early practices this week show an improved form. Captain Tom Grady, still in the quarter back, pulled a tendon in the encounter with Ripon last week and may not be able to start this Saturday.

The social program for the weekend will include smokers and reunions at the fraternity houses and residence halls, and an all-college mixer at the gymnasium Saturday night.

ELECTION SHOWS GOOD ROAD TREND

State Soon to Be Bisected by Two More Concrete Highways

Madison—The victory in four out of five counties which voted for road bond issues on Tuesday indicates not only a big favorable swing toward better roads, but also that in a few years there will be a paved road from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river and from Beloit to a point not far from Lake Superior.

This is the statement of F. A. Cannon, Executive Director of the Good Roads Association of Wisconsin, who campaigned for the last month in the counties which were about to vote on the bond issues. Mr. Cannon said:

"The favorable vote on the bond issues for roads in four out of the five counties means a big step forward in filling up the gaps on through-paved highways. This refers especially to votes in Waushara and Marathon-co. When the proposed roads are paved in those counties it will mean that one can go from Milwaukee northward on highway 15 and thence northwesterly through Waushara, Portage, and Wood counties and on to the Clark-co line; or northward from Stevens Point to the Lincoln-co line. It means that one can drive from Beloit to the Lincoln-co line or to Wausau, and west from Wausau to the Clark-co line on number 15."

Plans are under way for the building of concrete from Eau Claire to Hudson. When Chippewa builds under the bond issue from Chippewa Falls it will mean that the filling up of the 50 mile gap in Clark county will give a paved road from Lake Michigan to Hudson on the Mississippi. The Clark county bond issue failed by only 59 votes. The effort will be renewed next spring with every indication of success.

The returns on the bond issue elections are further significant as showing the demand for good roads. In the five counties the vote in favor of the bond issue was, in round numbers, 25,000; those opposed, 12,000. Marathon county voted 4 to 1; Waushara, 3 to 1; Chippewa, 2 to 1; Langlade, 1½ to 1."

WOMAN BADLY HURT AS SHE TRIPS OVER PIPE

Mrs. Edward Calvert, 717 E. Alton-st, received injuries to her right leg making it necessary that she be taken to her home in an ambulance when she tripped over a water shut-off pipe in front of Bellings' Drug Store, 104 E. College-ave, at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. It is believed that Mrs. Calvert suffered a fracture above the knee.

125 LEGIONAIRES FORM DUNN ESCORT

War Veterans Honor Policeman Who Died Following Injury

Twenty-six automobiles containing more than 125 members of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion formed a military escort Thursday for Alfred Dunn, city motorcycle patrolman, who died Tuesday morning from pneumonia. The local legionaires left the Schenmer funeral home at 1:30 Thursday afternoon and escorted the body to the city limits of Hortonville. Mr. Dunn's former home. Here members of the Hortonville Legion took up the duties of escort and later conducted the military part of the funeral.

George Dunn, chairman of the Johnston post welfare committee, was in charge of the escort. Charles Sparling, Paul Woelke, Arthur Jones and Roy Hauert acted as color bearers. Many of the local Legionnaires continued on to Hortonville and attended the funeral at the Methodist church. Services were in charge of the Rev. Henry S. Gately of Appleton.

In addition to the Legion escort, county motorcycle patrolmen Elmer Rohm, Alfred Miller and Charles Steidl formed a three-man convoy of honor. Mr. Dunn rode for the county for over a year before joining the Appleton police department.

TEACHERS URGED TO USE THEIR SENSE OF HUMOR

Milwaukee—(AP)—A plea to teachers to let their sense of humor have more expression was made before the junior high school section of the state Teachers convention today by Lillian M. Wilber of Chippewa Falls, Wis.

At best we become tired and nervous," she said, "and our work becomes settled into a sameness. That sameness disappears however, if we but appreciate the funny things which occur daily in a teacher's life. I am thankful always that the human being has an insatiable within him a sense of humor. Sometimes at a particular trying time I feel like laughing or having a good cry. The crying is out of the question there before thirty children. A good laugh clears the air and if nothing else, arouses an indignant class."

WOMANS CLUB HOLDS MONTHLY CHEST CLINIC

HEADACHES MAY BE CAUSED BY CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings quick relief

Constipation takes its toll in suffering and may lead in the end to more than forty diseases. Don't let this thing pile up poisons in your body—deadly poisons! Read Mrs. Hardin's message of cheer:

"I have taken medicine and taken it constantly for constipation, but nothing I ever took regulated my system except Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

Mrs. LEE HARDIN, 705 N. Beady Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

Headaches, sallow skin, blotchy complexion—these are but a few of the symptoms! Drive constipation from your body with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—100% bran. Two tablespoonfuls eaten daily—with every meal, in chronic cases—are guaranteed to bring permanent relief, or your money is refunded.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Ready to eat. Delicious with milk, fruit or in cooking. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at leading hotels and restaurants.

Marajah's Mail In One Day Contains 623 Letters

Just 623 letters from readers of The Appleton Post-Crescent were dumped on Marajah's desk on Thursday and on Friday morning nearly as many more were given to him. Marajah, who is a big feature at Fischer's Appleton theatre this week, is spending hours trying to answer this avalanche of letters. He insists that all letters be accompanied by stamped and addressed envelopes so that answers can be mailed if they are not printed in The Post-Crescent.

The last answers will be printed on Saturday but Marajah will be at the theatre until Sunday night. He has been playing to capacity houses since he came here.

Following are a few answers to the mountain of questions sent to him:

Mrs. J. E. Columbia Ave., Neenah, Wis. You can come to the Fischer Theatre and I will be pleased to see you personally. Your husband likes you and he has no other woman. Money coming to you from a brother in 1928.

Hiram H. E., Candee St. You are going to be successful in that course that you are taking, connected with electricity, and it is shown for you to be successful in January of next year.

Miss L. K., N. Morrison St., City. You will inherit money but not until 1928. I see you receiving a birthday present—a diamond.

Mr. Dick H., Richmond St., City I am awfully sorry to have received your letter. Unfortunate conditions seem to prevail for you. Your wife has left you with six children. In time she will wish to come back, and she will, but not shown immediately.

M. H. B., Appleton St. I see you receiving money from H. B. and very quickly. I see the oil well coming in at 3,000 feet. You will marry in '28. I thank you for your letter.

Mr. Ed B., East Second St., Kaukauna. Your business will be very successful, and your patent is going to be the means of making a lot of money, after it becomes patented at Washington.

Miss Viola S., Richmond St., City. Success is shown and marriage very favorable. You will get a good husband and a good home. It is shown to be next year. I see also employment for you.

Sylvester J. M. You will not be unemployed very long and you will be working in Appleton. Much success is shown for you this winter up until April.

Mrs. Wm. H., Prospect Ave., City. Your husband does not intend to become separated. He has too many companions that are not favorable to him, but in time he will stop drinking as heavily as he does now.

F. E. H., E. Columbia Ave. Money is coming to you in the month of December. Through the receiving of this money much success is shown.

Mrs. Victoria W., Hortonville, Wis. Box 113. I see many changes for you. I see that you are 55. A home is coming to come to you through conditions that are going to change next year 1927. Your husband will become to you in time.

Mrs. F. K., N. Morrison St., City. Lady, relative to the word divorce, you will have to come to the theatre to ask me about that. I wish that you could come to the theatre. I will be pleased to see you.

Miss A. K. You seem to make a trip next summer taking in the west, and you will be very true to you.

Miss R. N., Clark St., Kaukauna. The party that you met this summer, you will receive letters from him before Christmas.

Mrs. Clarence O., Durkee St., City. Death seems to have occurred two days. I do not see any note being left. Your husband will be transferred to Iron Mountain, Michigan. And your husband does not do so.

CIRCULATE 9,000 BOOKS AT LIBRARY DURING ONE MONTH

Fiction Leads in Popularity, Monthly Report of Librarian Shows

More than 9,000 books and magazines were circulated at the Appleton public library in October, Miss Florence C. Day, librarian, reported at the monthly meeting of the library board at the library at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon. An increase of 258 borrowers was noted, making a total of 7,998 persons registered at the library. Fiction led in popularity by about 3,000 volumes, there being 2,995 volumes of non-fiction circulated, and 5,943 volumes of fiction. Two hundred fourteen books completed the circulation, aside from pictures, pamphlets and clippings. Of the total circulation, 5,459 volumes were from the adult department and 3,508 from the children's department. More non-fiction books are lent to children than to adults, Miss Day said. There were 1,574 volumes in the former and 1,420 in the latter. A majority of about 1,500 volumes in fiction was maintained by the adult department which circulated 3,777 volumes, compared to 2,216 in the children's department. No books were added to the children's department during the month but 107 volumes brought the adult department to 18,250 while the children's is 6,615 volumes. The 184 borrowers added to the adult department and 15 transfers from the juvenile made a total number of registrations of 5,383. There were five withdrawals. Eighty-seven entries were added to the juvenile section, which had 2,620 registrations Nov. 1. There are 496 persons registered at the library who live outside the city limits but in Outagamie-co., and 42 who reside outside of the county.

Of the 75 questions answered at the library for study references, 65 were for the adult department and ten for the children's. The work required 50 hours and 10 minutes time. Literature questions were the most popular, it would appear, for 20 adults submitted questions. Others were history and travel, 13; special and technical studies, 16; current topics, 10; and art, 6.

MENASHA EXCITED OVER CELEBRATION

Turn on New Lighting System After Intercity Football Game

Menasha—City officials and merchants were busy Friday completing arrangements for the big celebration Saturday in honor of the new ornamental street lighting system.

The Oshkosh normal school band which consists of nearly 100 pieces will escort the football teams to Recreation park at 10 o'clock.

The monthly financial statement showed a treasurer's balance on Oct. 31 of $72,632.85. The amounts in the various funds on Oct. 31 were: General fund, $21,663.68; water and light fund, $19,785.77; board of education, $42,078.42; industrial school fund, $3,876.12; library fund, $20,568.64; firemen's pension fund, $7,712.63; cemetery fund, $2,690; recreation fund, $7.28.

Mayor Remmel gave a brief talk on the celebration to be held Saturday afternoon and evening. He said he had been designated to touch a button Saturday night that would flood the main street with light. A band had been engaged to play the music in the main street football game in the afternoon and for the celebration in the evening.

He suggested that the people of Menasha make the day one never to be forgotten. He complimented J. H. Kuester, superintendent of water and light for the work he has done in making the new lighting system possible and called for a rising vote of thanks in his honor. Upon motion of Alderman A. W. Borenz the city appropriated $150 to defray the expense of the celebration.

Alderman Gus Fahrtenkrug announced that his attention had been called to the condition of the old Landgraf hotel barn from which the roof had just been removed and the building abandoned. He said it was a dangerous fire hazard in its present condition and there is considerable doubt as to the second floor. The city attorney was instructed to notify the owner in Milwaukee by wire or registered mail to give it his attention at once.

REPORTS ON MEETING Alderman Fahrtenkrug submitted a report on the sewer disposal plant joint meeting of cities of Fox River valley which he attended at Appleton. A petition for a sewer and water main on Appleton rd. Manitowish and Eighteenth was accepted and placed on file. The payment of a $500 loan from the public library which was used for street improvement purposes was extended for 5 years with interest at the rate of 5 percent.

The application of Roy Sherrin for a soft drink license was granted. The claim of L. Schwartz for $38 for the loss of poultry killed by a dog was placed on file. The fire department presented the council with a picture of the fire apparatus and firemen taken on the public triangle which was accepted and upon the suggestion of Mayor Remmel the firemen were given a rising vote of thanks.

A request of the Menasha Paper Mills company to extend its sidetrack across 31st-st was referred to the committee of the whole and street committee. The request of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company to attach its guy wires to the city hall building was referred to the city attorney and street committee for a conference with the Traction company.

Bids submitted for approximately 400 feet of wire fence for Oak Hill cemetery were rejected and the city clerk was instructed to readvertise for new bids for a fence to be erected next spring. Six bids were submitted. The bid at the lowest price was rejected. The street committee was referred to the street committee and Fourth ward alderman for the purpose of viewing the premises.

The street committee was authorized to make a rounding corner of the sidewalk at the corner of Main and Racine-avis and to erect an iron rail for protection. The street committee was authorized to replace the drain pipe near Steidl's store on Broad-st with a larger one. Valley Construction company which was awarded the contract for installing the new street lighting system was ordered to replace the concrete in the sidewalk at once and was authorized to use a quick setting cement at an added cost of approximately $160. The matter of revising the ordinance for the operation of buses was referred to the committee of the whole. It was brought out that the whole fee per bus is $25 which is lower than that fixed by neighboring cities.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA A dance was given Thursday evening at Carney hall at Harrison. There was a large attendance and music was furnished by Menasha's Olympia orchestra of Neenah.

Fledge Local Girl An Appleton girl, Miss Olive Gage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Gage, 429 W. Fifth-st, was pledged Tuesday evening to Alpha Gamma Phi sorority of Lawrence college. Miss Bernice Kleophr of Duluth, Minn., also was pledged to that time.

SCHOOLS ASKING FOR $15,000 MORE THAN A YEAR AGO

Mayor Wants Action Deferred Until Joint Meeting Can Be Held

Menasha—In a resolution passed at a recent meeting and read by City Clerk J. F. DeCaro at the monthly meeting of the common council Thursday night, the board of education asked for an appropriation of $123,426.66 for the maintenance of the public schools the coming year. This amount is an increase of approximately $15,000 over the amount asked for last year. The industrial school board asked for an appropriation of $19,449.03 in another resolution.

Mayor N. G. Remmel suggested that the two resolutions be placed on file until a joint meeting of the two school boards and the common council could be held to go over the various items on the agenda. He was instructed to get in touch with the boards and call a meeting for some time next week. The mayor favored a budget that would enable the city to work on a cash basis. He suggested that each department of the city get busy and make out its schedule for the coming year.

The report of the auditor engaged to check over the city books was read by the clerk. It included the municipal electric and waterworks plant which it stated was more than self sustaining. The city was complimented for the manner in which its records are being kept. The report was accepted and placed on file.

The monthly financial statement showed a treasurer's balance on Oct. 31 of $72,632.85. MENASHA SCOUTS READY FOR RALLY AT APPLETON

Menasha—Menasha will be well represented at Fox river valley scout rally Friday night at the armory at Appleton. Fourteen troops are entered and of this number 6 troops will be from Menasha. They are: No. 16, St. John church, organized two weeks ago; No. 7, St. Mary church; No. 15, St. Thomas church; No. 18, St. Patrick church; No. 9, Menasha Wooden Ware company; and No. 14, Congregational church. Menasha has developed several experts in different lines who it is expected will break former scout rally records Friday night. One of these is Edna Munter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Munter, St. Mary troop, who has become adept at knot tying.

ON MENASHA'S BOWLING ALLEYS

CITY LEAGUE Menasha—In the Menasha City Bowling league at Menasha alleys on Thursday night the Pierce Agency held on to first place by taking all three games from the Orpheum theatre, and the Revell held to second place by taking the Menasha Printing & Carton company into camp for three games, while the Fountain grill was dropping one game to Engler Bear Cats and the Menasha Furniture Co. was losing two games to the Coffee shop. The Tourist Inn took the odd game from Menasha alleys and the Walter Specials proved to be one game better than the Clothes shop. Ostertag had high series with a 624 count, while Alexander rolled 255 for high game.

TEACH CHILDREN TO ADORN THEMSELVES

Mentors Told How to Teach Children to Apply Principles of Art

Milwaukee (AP)—Wisconsin teachers were told here Friday how to teach children to apply the principles of art in clothing themselves so as not to be "a blot on the landscape."

F. G. Benson of the Columbia university teacher's colleges made one of the principal addresses of the state teachers convention before the fine arts section.

"The immediate users made of art principles by everyone," he said, "are those employed in the selection and use of clothing, furnishings, utensils and decorative objects."

"Pupils should therefore be given every possible opportunity to learn how to costume and adorn themselves in good taste, and to furnish their rooms, homes and surroundings with attractive and pleasing products, arranged in accordance with the principles of appropriateness, proportion and harmony in form and color. In all of this there is the creative element of selection. While one may not have the talent to design a single garment of his costume, he may have the ability to be taught to select his garments in such taste as to make a pleasing composition of the costume as a whole, and this in harmony with his individual qualities of figure, facial form and complexion."

New Music Hall Splendid Example Of Decorative Work

Ampico hall on the third floor of the Irving Zuehlke Music-co has been completed and will be used for recitals and demonstrations. The room has been partitioned from the other display rooms on the floor and has been specially decorated by Mr. Zuehlke. A mezzanine floor on two sides of the hall is surrounded by a marbled railing, and a staircase leading to the balcony is finished with the same ivory colored marble effect. The lower half of the walls has the appearance of stone blocks with the brown mortar aging with years and slightly ragged. Door casings and other trimmings in the room are marbled in green, and ivory pillars support the stair posts and the small platform at the front of the hall.

GOLF COMMITTEE TO HOLD MEETING SOON

A meeting of the sub-committee on golf of the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce will be held either Friday or Saturday to hear reports on the progress of the campaign to raise funds to finance construction of a municipal golf course here.

Members of the committee have been working for several weeks, and if enough money has been obtained, work on the course might be started this fall. It is said.

Approximately $2,000 has been raised and at least $2,000 more has been promised, according to unofficial returns. The park board also has tentatively promised approximately $3,000, it is reported.

South park, in the Fourth ward, has been mentioned as the site for the municipal course.

The so-called flat work of the wall decorations was done by a professional decorator, Mr. Zuehlke said, but all of the more elaborate finishing, including the marbled and stone effects was his work.

The radio rooms of the company have been moved to the downstairs section. Heretofore, part of the equipment was located on the third floor and a part downstairs.

Mapping the heavens has taken thirty years but the task is now practically completed. It has been an international task, the countries of the world co-operating.

The rich man who has lost his health, knows the value of ENZO JEL for a dessert.

THE ELECTION

All of the results of the election are now in and present curiosities and anomalies even greater than we find in most elections. There is no accounting for political events, or for the part of the public mind in its reactions to political questions. For instance, Frank Smith was elected senator by the people of Illinois on top of the fact that approximately $100,000 was spent to nominate him in the primary, and that he had accepted a campaign contribution of more than $100,000 from Samuel Insull, while he was a member of the state commission which regulates public utilities in Illinois. Of course Smith should have been beaten, for by no moral standard could his candidacy be justified. It had been repudiated by President Coolidge, but all of this appeared to carry no weight with the people of Illinois, while in Massachusetts the candidate for senator Mr. Coolidge endorsed, and the only one he endorsed in the election, Mr. Butler, was defeated. On the merits of the two candidacies, Smith should have been defeated and Butler elected, but just the reverse happened.

In New York state Mr. Wadsworth, one of the ablest and most influential of the Republican members of the senate and an opponent of the world court, failed of reelection. This was another queer quirk, for, according to the "dope", his opposition to the world court should have been his passport to another term. New York goes overwhelmingly Democratic, along with Massachusetts, and that and some other Democratic gains raise the presidential hope of this party high. There can be no denying the fact that it greatly increases the logic of Smith for the nomination, and yet it is not by any means certain that the Democrats will have the courage to put him at the head of the ticket in 1928.

Another inconsistency of the election is the popular support given William S. Vare for the senatorship in Pennsylvania, where he wins out despite an expenditure of $600,000 for his nomination in the primary out of a total of $3,000,000,000 used in that extraordinary debauchery of the electorate. In the virtuous state of Wisconsin our Progressives shudder at the thought of anyone holding office under such a money taint, but in Pennsylvania the people think nothing of it. There is a similar contrast in Illinois. Probably on the whole the people of Pennsylvania and Illinois, farmers, laborers and all others, have as high moral, religious and intellectual standards as the people of Wisconsin. There is a difference in viewpoint.

Even in Wisconsin we have these curious mixtures of inconsistency that cannot be accounted for. Mr. Zimmerman is elected governor by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for this office in the state, notwithstanding he is vigorously opposed by Governor Blaine and all of those politically associated with him, and Blaine himself is elected to the senatorship, showing that the people do not believe what Blaine says about Zimmerman or what Zimmerman says about Blaine, or that they do not care. It is an amusing as well as interesting phenomenon of psychology, for both cases are in the light.

The vote of the people shows that at little study was made of the "new man" and that the people's opinion was not settled because the political party they followed endorsed it. No people really thought a thing out for themselves, even though they have voted for such a long time, the integrity, independence and freedom of the judiciary.

Up in Minnesota the great Magnus Johnson who went to Washington as senator with his own bill, so to speak, and who was supposed to be the sum total of all that was desirable in a real representative of the "people", is repudiated for the governorship. His fame was of short duration, but great things were expected of him by a misled electorate. He was an extremist without ability. Others of his kind are yet to be found out.

Modificationists are happy over the impressive victory they have won in referendums. Only one state out of eight where the issue was contested voted dry. The important political states of New York and Illinois were tremendously wet. It really looks as though the storm of protest against Volsteadism and the depravities of prohibition were about to make itself effective and that we are going to have a change in the law.

We must confess that we do not have the faith the Democrats do in modification as an issue in 1928. Our opinion is that the demand for repeal or modification will be so strong by that time, if it really exists nationally, that the Republicans themselves will have to take cognizance of it and perform the necessary formalities. Furthermore, the people are not likely to elect a president on the question of prohibition, nor should they. The presidency should not be dragged into such a question.

As for the Anti-Saloon league it is about done for, and that too is a whole-some thing. It has been quite as corrupt and as vicious in its methods as the liquor ring was in its debauchery of politics and government before the constitutional amendment. It has not functioned for the success of its object nor the good of government.

Finally, we find those disposed to read in the election a lessening of Mr. Coolidge's popularity. We do not think this is at all indicated. True, his candidate for senator in Massachusetts, the chairman of the Republican National committee, is defeated, but so was Mr. Blaine's candidate for governor in both the primary and the election, and yet the people are with Blaine. So, we think they are with Coolidge. There is no doubt that unless great changes take place he will be nominated for another term, and in all probability elected.

TOO MANY COEDS?

Northwestern university at Evanston, Illinois, and Oxford university in England are just now in the throes of debate about the alleged evils of "too many women on the campus." The practice of admitting women, has been thrashed out time and time again and most people supposed that the long war over admission finally won by the women's side about twenty years ago settled the question for good and all. But apparently not.

Oxford's vice chancellor complains: "I did my best to obtain the admission of women to degrees and I do not regret it. But who at that time could foresee that fully one-fifth of our students would soon be women?" He recommends that the number of women students be limited. Northwestern goes further than recommendations. Facing the astounding fact that it is teaching equal numbers of both sexes, it has actually set a limit of thirty-five women to every forty-five men. This move is explained as one to "build up our professional atmosphere."

Of course there is as much sound reason for schools with a definite ratio of the sexes as for schools all of one sex. Any one who has watched the trend of the times knows that the percentage of women should grow constantly larger in unrestricted schools. The Oxford gentleman could not have foreseen this unless he had also foreseen the war and the resultant breaking down of industrial and professional sex barriers. With more jobs opening constantly to women, and some jobs—notably teaching—going almost completely into their hands as a specialty, the demand for their higher education is inevitable. It cannot be stopped. In the state universities it is doubtful whether there will even be any serious effort to stop it.

Northwestern's claim that limiting women will help to "build up the professional atmosphere" is based on the present habit of most women students of confining their education to the college of liberal arts while men are more prone to enter the professional schools. Undoubtedly at the present time a larger proportion of women than men go to college as a pleasant cultural interlude. Many expect to find their mates there. The definite idea of preparation for a business or professional career is not as prevalent with them, on the average, as with men. Where women students are anywhere near as numerous as men campus life inevitably will be marked by an increase of the sort of thing called "stepping out," and increasing emphasis on the social as opposed to the professional interests.

That is perfectly sound reasoning. But it may not be as sound twenty years hence, with the ascendancy of the "new woman," the increased number of independent working wives, and the decline of home-making as a complete womanly ambition in itself.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

OXYGEN OPPOSES URIC ACID

It should begin to be apparent now that persons with the uric acid obsession are generally misinformed or misguided.

The more we learn about the role played by uric acid the less we worry about it. Even in gout, according to the best medical knowledge of the day, uric acid is a minor feature; the excess of uric acid found in the blood of one with genuine gout and the deposits of mono-urate of sodium sometimes found in the tissues, now are regarded rather as a manifestation than as a cause of the disease. Genuine gout is exceedingly rare today, notwithstanding the widespread indulgence of those habits of life which the medical fathers have always held responsible for gout.

Granting, however, that gout still happens, or that some disturbance of health akin to it is concerned in even a small fraction of the cases popularly ascribed to this cause, the problem such condition imposes upon us is to correct the faulty metabolism, in genuine gout the defective purin metabolism. Purin is nitrogenous food material from which uric acid may be derived. The amount of uric acid normally present in the blood in health is from the incomplete oxidation or combustion of purins. The excess found in leukemia, pneumonia, gout and some other conditions is mainly produced as a byproduct in the delayed or deficient combustion of this same nitrogenous material (purin) may come from the body's tissue cells as well as from foods).

All right, then, let us turn on the oxygen and remedy this poor combustion.

I can now tell in not to exceed 100 words what can't be accomplished by deep breathing exercise.

I can tell in just three words what anybody may accomplish for his health by practicing deep breathing a certain number of minutes night and morning.

Just to get an idea how much you gain on yourself by practicing deep breathing exercise for, say five minutes, let some one hold a watch and count your normal breathing as you sit or stand at your ordinary occupation. Then go through your breathing exercise. Then let the observer count your breathing for the five minutes after the exercise. Invariably the breathing will be found slower and more shallow than normal following such forced breathing; this is just a natural compensation for the momentary spurt. The sum total of the effort is nothing, practically. Of course even such a childish effort has some value as exercise, but a walk around the block, or a run upstairs, or a few calisthenic movements would be of far greater value, not only as exercise, but for the specific purpose of increasing the absorption of oxygen into the blood and the utilization of this oxygen for improving the draft and speeding up the metabolism.

Racial exercise, muscular play or work, is the most effective means we have to increase the absorption and, more important, the utilization of oxygen in the body. It is not the only means, but it is certainly the best. And this is what I have in mind when I urge everybody who is not confined as an invalid, to adopt as a rule of life the habit of taking six miles of oxygen on the hoof every day. I doubt whether one who follows this rule can ever have any serious concern about the proportion of uric acid in his blood or his system.

Even when there is an excess of uric acid present in the blood, as determined by chemical test, or deposits of uric acid in the joints or soft tissues, this does not mean "acidosis" nor has it any particular bearing on the notion of "acidity."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Specks in Vision

Does inflammation of the gall bladder and appendix cause black floating specks in the vision? If so is an operation necessary for cure? (B. F. H.)

Answer.—No, any of us may be annoyed with such floating specks, and they have no special significance in any case.

No Friend—Expert Congressman

I have "tried my luck" in obtaining government publications and so far I have the bulletin "Prenatal Care" from the children's bureau, department of labor, Washington, D. C., without being asked to pay anything. I have no friends at court, but I have also received free of charge a copy of "Infant Care" published by the same bureau, but this was obtained for me by our congressman. I note a price of 10 cents for a copy is requested for additional copies of "Infant Care," and 5 cents for "Prenatal Care." (Mrs. A. McC.)

Answer.—Congratulations are due you for getting something from the government for nothing. (Copyright John F. Dille company.)

Mebbe It's a Good Thing He Doesn't Come Any Closer

LIBRARY ADVENTURES

By Arnold Mulder

A PUBLISHER'S TROUBLES

In the current magazine the head of a leading book publishing company contributes an anonymous article about the trials of the publisher. The trials of the author have been told so often that everybody is familiar with every item. The very term, "struggling author," is a commonplace and the general reader knows exactly what is meant by it. Authorship is regarded as the big gamble in which some win enormous stakes when one of their books wins success, and the public seems never to grow tired of reading the romantic accounts of how so-and-so lived in poverty for years and then won out contrary to the prediction of all his friends and relatives, climbed into the best seller list and lived happily ever after. The familiar story is probably so popular because it follows the pattern of the "success story" in business. Every reader for the moment identifies himself with the successful person, no matter how the facts of his life may militate against such identification, and he wins vicarious pleasure from it.

PUBLISHER HAS TRIALS

But there is little or no romance connected with the trials of the publisher, and yet he also engages in a gamble, according to the confessions of this anonymous publisher, that would appal the average business man. In the case of a few established writers the publisher can be quite certain that each new book will be relatively successful, at least that it will return a profit. But writers of that type are few compared with the hosts that form the bulk of the average publisher's list.

And even an established writer is not always a sure financial hit. The published cites the case of Hendrick Willem Van Loon. He made one of the greatest successes in modern publishing history with "The Story of Mankind," and his very next book, "The Story of the Bible," was one of the greatest failures, financially, in modern publishing.

The publisher names a number of writers who once were sure-fire sellers but who today can only just hold their own or have been entirely forced out of the running by a change in public taste. The unlucky publisher who brings out the books of such writers has to live on very thin broth. But still greater hazard in the game is mentioned by the publisher. Often the published nurses a writer along for years in the belief that the writer will eventually become a big seller. His books are published at a small margin of profit to the publisher, but he is not advertising him. After some years he becomes dissatisfied and changes over to another publisher, and not infrequently the second publisher, who hasn't spent a cent, reaps all the benefits of the years of advertising.

GATHER FINALLY SUCCEEDED

The best example of this Willa Cather. Up to the time she wrote "One of Ours" she was published by Houghton Mifflin company. Her books had great distinction but they did not sell. Even "My Antonia," which is generally considered or very finest novel, was a financial failure. After the publication of that book she changed over to Alfred A. Knopf and that firm has published her since then. Her very first novel brought out by Knopf, "One of Ours," was a great success and climbed into the list of the best sellers even before it was awarded the Pulitzer prize. The publisher had little or nothing to do with this. It just happened. But Houghton Mifflin

The Question Box

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people of the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director the Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. What is the meaning of the term "Nth power?" B. J.

A. "N" equals an indefinite number. The Nth power is power increased to an indefinite extent.

Q. What are the essential things to be followed in constructing a fish pond? L. S. B.

A. The following features should be provided for: Water tightness, so that a small inflow will be sufficient to make high temperatures during the summer months; a shallow area, from 18 to 30 inches deep, where the fish nest; a deeper area, of 6 feet or more, for winter quarters; and a fertile bottom for the growth of aquatic plants, upon which fish food depends.

Q. What kind of machine is the garrote such as is used in Cuba for executions of criminals condemned to death? L. B. W.

A. Formerly the mode of capital punishment known as the garrote was by means of strangulation by a cord which was passed around the neck lin company had paid the bill and Knopf drew the dividends.

The publisher admits that there are any number of first and second books of great distinction that do not sell. The publisher knows they ought to sell but they perversely don't. And he also admits that there are any number of novels by writers with a big name that are hardly worth the paper they are printed on, in an artistic sense, but that sell by the hundreds of thousands. Not the least of the trials of the conscientious publisher is to see worthy books fail financially and to be the medium of making relatively mediocre books go over big.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

RING-FAILED, BEARS WITH RUBBER NOSES.

Coati Mundis

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n. This one, children, will not be found in the catalog if you look for "snookum bears." However, a smart dealer, knowing the value of an easy name to remember, calls the Coati Mundis by that name, which may be just as well.

Running in bands these animals are found in Mexico and South America. They have an odd shaped rubbery nose that can be worked into so many shapes and so rapidly you are forced to laugh.

They are about the size of raccoon, with ringed tails that are quite long. Their black feet have bear-like claws. Their ears are short and round.

As to food, anything sweet in the fruit line is relished by Coati Mundis; even custard pie goes down with a rush. Prunes also make a great hit with this animal.

When it comes to identification the Coati is an American plantigrade carnivorous quadruped. Rather hard to get all that down, so let us stick to "snookum bears."

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York—Manhattan, despite its size and much vaunted greatness depends on good, old-fashioned, counter-circus stunts to attract attention.

Thus the steam callopes—that time—honored trailer of the Main Street parade—goes about the highways of this metropolis on a motor truck playing jazz tunes as it goes and carrying banners announcing everything from motor oil to a nickel dance.

Thus, too, when an advertiser desires to attract attention on Broadway, he goes back to the methods of the old Mardi Gras and sends out a "sandwich man" on high stilts—a hang-over from the summer carnivals at Coney Island. The stilt-walker blocks blocks traffic by the simple trick of sitting himself down on a taxicab while traffic is halted and, when the whistle blows, he wanders over and seats himself upon the top of a street car. It's sure fire.

I saw at least a thousand persons blocked near Times square the other night to watch this fellow, although his stunts were but slight variations on the stilted clown who reaved about during county fair week in Im-lay City, Mich., when I was a lad.

Where there's a will to drink there's a way to get it!

One of those very popular gentlemen—usually referred to as boot-leggers—got a call the other day to deliver a case of liquor to a movie magnate in the hotel occupied by a certain visiting queen.

Arriving there he found every door guarded by police.

Stumped as to what movie to make, he went to a nearby store and bought a shiny valise and a silk hat. At a second-hand store he bought a couple of ancient war medals.

Then he walked right up and, to his amazement, three of the officers saluted him.

"I sure must have looked like the Duke of Kakyak," he told me afterward.

All of which would be a better story if I could print a photograph of the gent in question.

Of the condemned and twisted until the jugular vein was broken. Condemned persons were usually employed as executioners. In the modern garrote the neck is enclosed in an iron collar containing a point or blade which by the turning of a crank is forced into the spine at the base of the brain. This mode of capital punishment is practised in Spain, Portugal, and other of the West Indian islands besides Cuba. So far as we can ascertain it is still operated by man power.

Q. Is the revoke the same in Duplicate Auction as in straight Auction? D. A. C.

A. No. In Duplicate Auction the penalty for a revoke by either side is 50 points only for each revoke and the non-revoking side is entitled to all the tricks it would normally have taken to scoring the penalty.

Q. How does the magician "Houdini" pronounce his name? F. T. M.

A. The name Houdini is pronounced as follows: Who-dee-ne.

Q. What is the meaning of the term "mob psychology?" E. T.

A. The term "mob psychology" refers to the study of the mental processes of a mob. A mob usually refers to a disorderly riotous gathering.

Q. Will you kindly inform me if there is any sorority or fraternity chartered by the name of Phi Kappa Tau? R. E.

A. The Phi Kappa Tau is a national men's fraternity which was established at Miami University in 1906.

Q. Please tell me what birds are particularly useful in the destruction of rats and mice. E. D.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that the following birds are particularly useful in the destruction of rats and mice, especially mice: Hawks, owls, shrikes, and juncos.

Q. What kind of grease or oil is used on iron or plaster Paris molds used in making fancy concrete castings? S. N.

A. The Bureau of Standards says in order to prevent concrete castings from adhering to iron or plaster Paris molds a soap solution made by dissolving as much soap as possible in hot water, or paraffin dissolved in gasoline, is employed.

NEED SCHOOLS TO TRAIN MEXICANS AS "Y" LEADERS

Mexico's Religious Laws
Good for Protestantism,
Speaker Says

Mexico's religious laws were passed because the government of Mexico thought that church property was so great that it jeopardized government, that foreign priests and preachers were unpatriotic and that children were more loyal to the church than to the state, Richard Williamson, national secretary of the Mexican Y. M. C. A., told 60 friends and members of the local association at a banquet and meeting Wednesday evening. Mr. Williamson was introduced by Judson G. Rosebush, vice president of Appleton Y. M. C. A., who opened a financial and building drive in Mexico City for the speaker several years ago. John Trautman, religious work secretary of the association, had charge of the program.

Mr. Williamson gave a brief review of the history of the country politically since its freedom from Spain in 1821.

The government of Mexico decided in 1917 that all preachers and priests must be Mexican and that no religion could be taught in the primary schools, the speaker said. The government is not weakened by the laws but their application had hit Protestants as well as Catholics, though the former can reorganize faster and easier, he said.

Mr. Williamson said he believed it was the best thing that could happen to the Protestant world.

He told of the association's work in Mexico, saying that in any turnover of the Y. M. C. A. usually "lighted on its feet" because the government was back of it. It is allowed to hold property under civil laws and to keep its doors open for service. There is a great need for play and competitive sports in Mexico, and the association wins approval by meeting this need.

The association instituted a practical religion in Mexico, he said. Formerly religion had no real relationship to life there. Men who grew up in the association now are numerous in prominent in the country. In Mexico the task of the association is to implant a religious ideal and let it grow among the natives. This need is for a training school for native secretaries in Mexico, he concluded.

75 FARMER'S AT MEETING OF COW TESTING CLUB

Neenah—Seventy-five farmers of this vicinity gathered at the Wisconsin Cheese Federation warehouse in Neenah Wednesday evening to attend the annual meeting of the Neenah Cow testing association. H. C. Searle, superintendent of the association gave a talk on cow testing associations' work in this district. Members own 20 cows which produced over 400 pounds of butter fat during the last year. One owned by William Beck, town of Menasha, produced 537 pounds. A short talk was given by County Agent Sell.

DEMAND FOR TRADE SCHOOL TRAINING

Waiting List for Young People Trained at Vocational School

Employers in Appleton have opened their eyes to the fact that the trained girl and boy are much more efficient workmen and for this reason students of the Appleton Vocational school are being placed in positions as fast as they can qualify, according to Herb Heilig, director.

It had been the custom for the students of the commercial department to do some of the school office work, including stenciling, mimeographing, typing and bookkeeping, but now the school work is delayed because all of the experienced students have been placed in positions.

The same condition exists in the printing department which prepares much of the school's advertising literature. Although there are many students enrolled, they are not experienced enough to operate a press. All the older boys in this department have been placed, and there is a demand for more.

Such a condition proves that the work of the vocational school is really helpful, according to Mr. Heilig, and it shows that the employers realize the value of the trained employee.

ADJUDGE HIGH SCHOOL GIRL ESSAY WINNER

Janet Carneross, 16-year-old Appleton high school girl, won first prize in an essay contest in which Carl J. Becker, candidate for clerk of circuit and municipal courts, sought expressions from school children on the subject of his candidacy.

The prize is $15 in gold and Mr. Becker wrote the winners Thursday informing them of the decisions of the judges. A second prize of a $10 gold piece was awarded to Johanna De Windt, also of Appleton high school, and the third, a $5 gold piece, goes to Irmis Schriener, 13, St. Joseph's parochial school.

Four silver prizes also are to be given.

CHAMBER HAS BALLOTS ON TAX REFERENDUM

Ballots on information on the state and local taxation referendum which chambers of commerce throughout the country will act on shortly are on hand at the office of the local chamber and may be obtained there, it was announced at the office Wednesday. The legislative committee will conduct its study of the referendum soon and prepare its recommendation for the local chamber.

POLICE ARREST 61 DURING OCTOBER

Charges Range from Justice Fugitives to Permitting Motor to Run

Featured by activities ranging from arresting a man for leaving his automobile while the engine was running to returning an escaped convict, the monthly report of Police Chief George R. Prim shows that 61 arrests were made by the department during October.

Four alleged drunks and two drunken drivers fell into disrepute with the law.

The arrests and charges preferred by the department follow: drunks, 4; bogus checks, 3; disregarding arterial signs, 4; speeding, 10; driving an automobile while intoxicated, 2; violation of parking ordinances, 7; prosecution under city zoning ordinance, 1; contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl, 8; using profane language, 1; absconding from a board bill, 1; violation of city ordinance regarding making left turns, 2; owning a gambling device, 1; operating an automobile with one license plate, 1; failing to stop after an accident, 1; operating an automobile without proper license, 3; return to Green Bay reformatory of escaped convict, 1; buying and selling junk without a license, 3; parking car with motor running, 1; removing mortgaged property, 1; reckless driving, 1, and disorderly conduct, 1.

Six of the persons apprehended were fugitives from justice. In several instances the men involved were turned over to other cities for trial, it was stated.

Only $3,082 out of 100,000 live through their teens, according to a recent university survey.

PREPARE INVITATIONS FOR FARM FESTIVAL

Invitations to attend the fourth annual farm festival and get-together dinner, sponsored by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, on Thursday, Nov. 18, in the dining room of the new Methodist Episcopal church at the corner of Drew and Franklin streets will be issued from the chamber office shortly. The invitations are now being prepared by the committee on arrangements.

A weather vane, brought to the Dutch settlement of Albany in 1636 is still in use.

Country Roads Invite You

Smooth, gleaming roads—bordered with fields and trees and the sparkling waters of lake and stream. Get out your car and follow the road that is nearest!

The country holds your heart's desire—excitement if you want it—rest and silence if you wish. You'll find an infinite variety of things to see and do in the great outdoors of the Middle West. The list below is just a hint.

- 1—The Minnesota National Forest including Cass Lake, famed for its Norway Pine Forests and Sandy beaches; Leech Lake, widely known for its pike fishing, and Winnegoshish Lake, one of the best wild duck and pike fishing lakes in the state. Reached at Walker on Highway No. 19, Cass Lake on Highway No. 19 and No. 8 and Cut Foot Sioux near Highway No. 8.
- 2—Ottawa, Kansas, from the Indian "to trade" on the site of the old trading post of the Ottawa Indians. Ottawa University founded by the chief of the Ottawa tribe, John Tecumseh Jones is here. New Santa Fe Trail.
- 3—Trinity and Indian Springs, Jug Rock, Cedar Bluffs, McBrides Bluffs (rising 276 feet above the level) and Indian Mounds all near Shoals, Indiana—a region of unusual beauty and historic interest. State Highway No. 41.
- 4—Grand Forks, North Dakota, on the famous Red River of the North. State Highways No. 1 and No. 8.
- 5—The Pontiac Trail from Detroit to Mackinaw City, Michigan, the trail followed by the Indian hordes in their assault on and massacre of the British garrison at Fort Mackinaw in 1763. Mackinaw State Park stands on the site of the old garrison. State Highway No. 10 follows the trail nearly all the way.
- 6—Carthage, the marble city, a gateway of the wonderful Ozark country of Missouri. Marble from its famous quarries is shipped to all parts of the world. State Highways Nos. 1 and 14.
- 7—Grand Detour, Illinois, a New England village transplanted to the prairie, where John Deere wrought the first steel plow. Not far from Dixon, State Highway No. 2.
- 8—Eagle River, Wisconsin, surrounded by a chain of 27 connected lakes, headwaters of the Wisconsin River, famous for fish and forests. State Highways No. 32, No. 26 and No. 70.
- 9—McGregor, Iowa, the home of the Wild Life School, in the heart of the beautiful scenery of the Mississippi River. State Highways Nos. 19, 13 and 10.
- 10—Hot Springs, South Dakota, the city built in a canyon. Along its busiest street runs a foaming stream with steep banks. Famous mineral springs of great medicinal value. State Highways No. 50 and No. 79.

MARGOT'S FASHIONS

GRACEFUL SILHOUETTE

Interesting combination of plain and novelty crepe is introduced in a slender model for everyday occasion wear. The back is straight; front marked at waistline with scallops with graceful fullness in lower part. It is an excellent style for the use of crepe satin in reverse treatment, silk moire with georgette, Kashmir with velvet or flat silk crepe. Design No. 2846 can be had in sizes 16, 18 years 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. See miniature views! Note how easily this stunning dress can be made. Complete instructions with pattern. The 36-inch size requires 3 1/2 yards of 40-inch material with 1/2 yards of 36-inch contrasting. Price 15 cents, in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Our patterns are made by the leading Fashion Designers of New York City, and are guaranteed to fit perfectly. Send for a copy of our new book, the Fall and Winter Fashion and Dressmaking Magazine. It contains new models for morning, afternoon and evening wear. Also patterns for children, lingerie, aprons, Xmas gifts, etc. Price 10 cents a copy.

"DRESS AND COAT MAN" PLAYS SECOND FIDDLE MODEL'S "BOY FRIEND" IS USUAL TYPE OF SHEIK

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK—Models ought to be paid overtime wages for the hours spent entertaining an out-of-town buyer. Either the man is bashful and awed, afraid of how devilish he has been to invite a fashion model to dinner, or he is so fresh on model to the boy out of the evening trying to keep him squealed.

I did time one evening with a big "coat and dress man" from Oregon. It was my turn in the wholesale dress house where I worked as a model to play guest.

There was nothing that my red faced, large-jawed friend omitted telling me about his store. The price of the fixtures, the number of drinking cups used daily, and the under sizes necessary for the overly plump, formed the dinner conversation for two hours.

I led him to a popular dining and dancing place on Broadway in the theatre district. He paid $17.50 for the meal and the accompanying music, and was so overcome that he talked incessantly through three hours at the theatre about the high cost of fun.

Yvonne, a pink and white girl with "you-great-big-brave-man-you" eyes, which were considered quite an asset to the house, was called on most frequently for "evening work."

Yvonne selected the highest priced shoes and ordered the most expensive meals she could pick from the menu. She was popular with the buyers and valuable to the house because she could worm a large order of dresses from the stingiest buyer.

Many of the dress, suit and coat houses pay the models good commissions.

MOSTLY PLATONIC
But the only romance to this is all on the side of the O. T. B. (out of town buyer).

The salesmen in the organization and the easy, "brotherly" atmosphere of arms around waists and an occasional kiss, forms another group of men, but here again it is rare that a model develops a love affair.

Her "heavy dates" and real "cases" are with her "boy friends," the usual type of young sheiks employed as clerks, salesmen and assistant managers.

In love affairs of a fashion model in New York are much the same as the love affairs of any other girl here.

I WAITED FOR HIM TO LEAVE THE ROOM, BUT HE STOOD THERE WHILE I CHANGED HASTILY.

age in any other city. The position in which she is placed by her work is surely so much routine.

Lavish make-up never denotes a fashion model. Few of the girls used rouge even at work. A dab of pink or pale purple grease on the eyelids, mascara on the lashes and plenty of lipstick constituted their make-up, but most of this was removed for the street.

I have yet to see a model "picked up." They go back and forth to work, alone or in twos. Men friends seldom are seen with them on the streets in the wholesale clothing district.

PART OF THE GAME

I had been at work only a few days when Harry, the salesman, entered the dressing room with a flock he wanted me to model. I wanted for him to leave the room, but he stood there while I changed hastily. Neither models nor salesmen think anything of that sort of impersonal intimacy.

"Busy tonight?" asked Harry.

I wasn't, but I had no intention of going out with this honey-toned hunter, so I started to stall.

"There's a buyer here, one of our big men, and he wants a date with someone tonight. What do you say?"

Relieved, I accepted, knowing that however tiresome or even disgusting a buyer might be, he always was safe.

expects me to have it all done by tomorrow night! And right in the middle of a week's ironing! And I'd promised Joy I'd go to the mothers' meeting at her school tomorrow. Miss Spencer sent me a special invitation.

"Well, it ain't goin' to mend matters any for you to whine around about it," her mother told her sternly. "Go right now and phone your Aunt Hattie to come over and help you. If I could peddle a machine I wouldn't let you touch them drapes and slip covers."

"I know you can't run the machine, Mother," Faith rose, tried to smile. "I'll do the best I can. It's just that—I've worked so hard lately, there's been so terribly much happening—I'm sorry, Mother, I was cross."

Mrs. Lane's stern face softened, like dark ice breaking in a spring thaw. "You're a good girl, Faith. Me-sick and all—you got a right to complain."

"No, Mother, no," Faith, touched to the heart by this rare burst of affection and appreciation from her mother, flung her arms about her massive body, laid her head against the vast breast.

"Don't carry on, now," her mother told her gruffly, to hide her unwanted emotion. "You get the slip covers out and I'll sit up by hand. Hattie can hem the drapes and valances on the machine. 'Twon't be such a job, if we all pitch in, and Cherry'll be real pleased."

Because her heart had been made incredibly light by her mother's shy, awkward kiss on her cheek, Faith's body seemed electrified with energy. Aunt Hattie arrived, scolding but actually pleased at being needed, and "pitched in" with a will, gossiping and sniping and laughing and treading with indefatigable vigor at the old "drop head" sewing machine.

Mrs. Lane took great pride in the smallness and everiness of the machine she put into the slip covers for the dusty old davenport, and personally with much grunting, supervised their installation. That night, while Cherry danced somewhere, as usual, "Lone" Lane with many flourishes, and an endless monologue with disappearing expert interior decorating should be done, painted the old wicker chair until it gleamed a lustrous black, trimming it artistically with the vermilion red lacquer treated the unpainted "side table" with its book trough, in the same fashion, and, because his fingers loved the feel of the brush, sand papered and refinished with rathogony varnish the scared, water-stained piano bench.

This old Axminster rug looks like kingdom come," he held his head to one side and surveyed the threadbare, ugly floor covering with disappearing eyes. "Say, Sis, I got a few bucks saved up to pay you back—you know, that fifty. How about me putting five of it down on a rug? Something with parrots, maybe. I can still give you ten on your fifty I owe you."

"That's sweet of you, Long," Faith smiled at him through misty eyes. "Good boy! And—now you can bring Fay Allen over sometime."

"Gee, Sis, could I? She's be—why, she'd be tickled stiff. Honest, Sis, she's a good kid. Say, it's gonna be a swell room, ain't it?"

CULTIVATE FAMILY FRIENDSHIPS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"MOTHER, make Charley take me to a movie tonight. He's always out with other girls, and never takes me a single place."

"Oh, go on, I do too! I took you to the 'Gayety' twice last month. What d'ya think I am, anyway, a millionaire?"

"My hands! That was away last spring. You haven't taken me a single place since the night your crowd went to Crystal Park to dance, and then I was almost fourth fiddle. Your girl couldn't go at the last minute and you couldn't get anybody else."

The mother went around the table lifting the pie plates. "Children, Charley," she said automatically as she had said it ten thousand times before. "Stop your quarreling! Charley, I do think you might take Ethel out once in a while."

"Gee, if she had any beaux of her own, she'd give me the 'ha, ha' quick enough if I did ask her. Don't think she loves me so well that she wishes to be with dead brothers. Nay, nay, Pauline, I'm onto her. Where's my hat? I gotta meet some fellows at Jerry's."

"You gotta date with Ethel, that's what you've got," yelled Ethel as the door slammed. "I heard."

Ethel stayed in and helped her mother with the dishes. It is all very well to talk about the emancipation of women. Somehow I just can't see it. There are millions of Ethels for everyone who has forced her way to freedom. And as long as woman is woman and man is man it bids fair to live up to precedent.

But about this brother and sister affair. Brotherless girls say longingly, "Oh, if only I had a brother! I could do so many things I can't do now, if I only had a brother."

The chances are that their brothers would do exactly as Charley did, take someone else's sister out. But I do know families where beautiful friendship exists between brothers and sisters, where they go together in crowds and where the brother's attitude of kind consideration, a contagious thing, soon spreads.

Again back to my hobby! It must be cultivated, this friendship, when they are very, very young, before their really conscious years; we must begin it the very day sister is born, and brother a mixture of one or two or whatever his age may be.

On Thursday noon Cherry made a flying trip home, arriving in a taxi piled high with bundles. With an imperious wave of her hand, as if taxis were the most ordinary convenience in a pampered life, she bade the driver wait after he had lugged parcels into the living room.

"Yahoo, Father! Spruce!" she called out gaily, as serene as if she had not narrowly sidestepped disgrace the night before. "Hello, Muggs, darling! Feeling better? I brought you a bag of the most marvelous black figs! Just look Faith—" she began to tug at the cords of the bundles.

"Cratonite," Father and yards of it. The furniture and the curtains look so absolutely hopeless against this gorgeous new wallpaper, that I simply couldn't stand it. Like it?"

She caught up a fold of the cratonite and displayed it like an expert saleswoman.

Against an ivory white background jungle foliage, brilliant plumaged parrots and exotic flowers riot in a blaze of color.

"Won't slip covers for the davenport made out of this gorgeous stuff simply transform it?" she went on breathlessly, as if she did not see the cloud that settled on Faith's aged face.

"And we can cover the cushion of the old wicker chair with it and make new curtains."

"You don't mean we?" Faith interrupted with quiet bitterness. "You mean I can. You must think I'm made of iron or steel, with ten pairs of hands. Charley, help you."

"Get Aunt Hattie to help you," Cherry suggested airily. "Just four pairs of curtains—for living room and dining room—and the slip covers and cushions. You can just run them right up on the machine. And oh, look! I bought some cane padding on last night. That old wicker chair is too horrible for words. Dad or Junior can give it a coat of this black lacquer paint and trim it with red. Won't that be stunning? And here's an unfinished side table with a book trough so you can put with the black and red lacquer. We can put my 'Tenny-son and four two volume Shakespeares—I think leather-bound books look swell in a living room, don't you—and that set of Michael Arlen that Bill Warren gave me for Christmas. Books make a room look so—highbrow, don't you think?"

She cocked a bright, untroubled topeye eye at Faith's frowning face as she shuffled the brown paper wrapping from the cheap piece of white pine furniture. "Junior or Dad can paint this, if you haven't time, darling. I do want everything to look spiffy for tomorrow night. Please be a good sport and help me, Faith."

"What's all this about Friday night?" Mrs. Lane asked, testing the quality of the cratonite between wetted forefinger and thumb.

"Spruce!" Cherry patted her mother's hand. "And Faith, if you have time, darling, you might wash and iron the cuffs and collars on Muggs's blue foulard. She's got to be all dressed up for Cherry's surprise party! Gotta go now, darlings. Please be nice, Faith!" she flung her arms about her sister's stiff, unyielding form and planted a swift butterfly kiss on her stern-set mouth.

When she had gone, Faith threw herself upon the shiny old davenport, with its worn red velvet cushions, and began to weep stormily.

"Now, what in the world's the matter with you?" her mother demanded, coming to bend over her. "You use the parlor as much as Cherry—or nearly as much, if you've got to jerk me up on everything I say—and I should think you'd be glad she spends her hard-earned money to fix it up. Not a word of thanks out of you—just stood there, looking like you could bite nails in two, and if looks could kill—well, the poor little thing, trying so hard to make a good show!"

"Her friends, would be laying' stark and cold at your feet right now."

"But, Mother," Faith sat up suddenly and dabbed angrily at her eyes. "She brings in enough work to keep me busy for a week, with all the housework and everything to do, and

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE farmer soon came back again, poked up his pile of milk and went out and closed the old barn door. His daily work was through. "Aw, so, we're trapped," wee Scouty cried. "How are we going to get outside? I'm tired of staying in the barn. There's nothing much to do."

The whole land looked around a while. Then Scouty's face broke into a smile. "Ah, ha!" said he, "Just follow me. I'll play the leader's roll. This getting out will be real soft. And then he pointed to the left, up through an opening in the barn. "Why, there's a path out!"

And sure enough, the path strewn with what do they call straw just what to do. They crept out like a bunch of mice, and the old barn door closed behind them. They peered round a corner and then they found 'twas pretty good down to the ground. Scouty said, "We will use this rope. It's much too far to step."

The rope was used for hoisting hay. They all slid down, and yelled, "Hurrah!"

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BREAKFAST — Halves of grape fruit, ham omelet, fried cornmeal mush, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Casserole of cauliflower and cheese, graham bread, head lettuce, grape sponge, vanilla cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER — Veal stew with dumplings, mashed turnips, endive salad, lemon sponge pie, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Unless a man is engaged in active outdoor labor he does not need more than once a day. In this particular day's menu a small amount of meat is used in the dinner menu since an omelet is the main dish in the breakfast menu.

CASSEROLE OF CAULIFLOWER AND CHEESE

One medium sized head cauliflower, 1 cup milk, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 egg, 1/2 cup fine crumbs, 1/2 cup grated cheese, 1 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons coarse buttered crumbs.

Drizzle cauliflower into flowerettes and let stand in cold water 30 minutes. Combine milk and water and bring to the boiling point. Add cauliflower and cook 15 minutes. Add salt after first ten minutes. Drain liquid from cauliflower. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add liquid in which cauliflower was cooked. Stir constantly until thick and smooth.

Crack mixture into a bowl. Mix crumbs and grated cheese. Beat egg slightly. Dip cauliflower first in egg and then in cheese mixture seasoned with paprika. Coat each flowerette thoroughly and evenly and arrange in a well buttered casserole. Sprinkle over any of the cheese mixture that may be left. Pour over hot sauce, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven.

6. Thou shalt not sport him with a nightie, like of age about the mouth of children or servants. Master things own mail problems and emergencies—as he does his.

7. Thou shalt not entertain, or make engagements to go out in the evening, when he admits he is too tired. After a day in an office, where many persons want a "silence and damped little of that." This thou too, knowest, if thou art a wife with a job outside the home.

8. Thou shalt make the children understand that their father's domestic comfort comes first.

9. Thou shalt not fail to praise thy husband for his good works in the home—the small repairs, the running of the furnace, the cooking of a Sunday night supper. Praise is fair and gracious—and awfully good policy besides.

10. Even if thy body be surrounded by the four walls of home, thou shalt not allow thy mind and soul to become housebound, for such is the way of comradeship with thy man.

TEN RULES FOR WIVES

Ten home commandments for wives have been laid down by Mrs. Elizabeth Macdonald at Boston university. 1. Thou shalt not set thy husband to work taking the quick out of a door or mending the electric flatiron. 2. Thou shalt not serve for dinner the despers he despises, they can be prepared for lunch when he isn't at home.

3. Thou shalt not "pick up after him" all the time, but neither shalt thou berate him for "leaving things around." The nicest men will do it, and domestic disorder with peace is better than tidiness enforced by nagging.

4. Thou shalt not fuss about the burnt matches or the dust on the drops. Women who are capricious over such details learn why men leave home and go to the club.

5. Thou shalt not give him new curtains or a pane lamp for a Christmas present, but rather some one who is for him and not chiding for the home.

SOCIETY IN APPLETON

Club Pledges Total $6,000, Women Told

Approximately $6,000 has been subscribed to the Appleton Women's club this year in unpaid pledges and cash subscriptions according to the report of the financial committee headed by Mrs. S. C. Rosebush at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the club Thursday afternoon. This is about $1000 in excess of subscriptions made last year, it was said. A few names of former members still remain on the list of the committee which have not yet been checked and these persons will be seen within the next few days.

Plans were made for the concert by Miss Meusel, coloratura soprano, at Lawrence Memorial chapel Nov. 22 under the auspices of the club. Committees to have charge of the work are: Tickets, Mrs. L. C. Sleeper and Mrs. E. C. Hillert; advertising, Mrs. Richard Meyer and Mrs. S. C. Shannon; decorations, Mrs. Goeres and Mrs. Mark C. Catlin; letters, Mrs. J. P. Frank, chairman.

Lawrence college chapter of Phi Phi Epsilon sorority, national honorary musical organization, of which Miss Meusel is a member, will help the club in the sale of tickets. Miss Mildred Friday of Beaver Dam, will be chairman of this group.

The proceeds from the concert will be used for the club work. Mrs. Shannon, executive secretary, announced that the primary purpose of the concert was to increase the treasury of the club in order that more extensive work could be done.

Board members were urged by the secretary to attend the events planned by the recreational department in order that they would have an intimate knowledge of the real purpose of the organization. In attend the plays, parties and other functions of the department, it was said.

An acknowledgment was made to the Over the Teacups club for the subscription sent to the finance committee. This was the first donation of the year made by a club during the financial campaign, Mrs. Shannon said.

WOMEN MEET TO DISCUSS SALE OF T. B. SEALS

Red Cross Christmas seals will be discussed at a district conference of managers and members of health committees of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association at Hickory Grove sanitarium in Brown-co Tuesday. Mrs. William Nemacheck, chairman of the Appleton territory, and Mrs. S. C. Shannon will attend. The Appleton Women's club will have charge of the sale this year.

Mrs. Nemacheck was present at a state meeting of the association held in Milwaukee last week, and the conference was believed to be of enough value to warrant district meetings of the same nature. Only the Christmas seal phase of the association work will be discussed.

PARTIES

Miss Helen Hillman, 739 W. Spencer-st, was surprised at a masquerade party at her home Sunday evening. Dancing, music and games furnished entertainment. Guests at the party were the Misses Mildred and Marie Uebacher, Phyllis Jones, Marie Roblee, Essie Cates, Janet Murphy and Virginia Hosgood; and George and Virginia Korman. Misses Milton Glebsch, John and Arthur Roemer and Joseph Grassberger.

Sixteen persons had dinner in the Gold room of the Conway hotel Thursday evening. Following the dinner, they attended the dance of the River-view Century club.

Mark S. Catlin, football coach at Lawrence college, entertained members of the football squad at a duck dinner at the Conway hotel Thursday night. Twenty-six men were present.

The first of a series of four house parties will be given at Brookway hall, boys' dormitory at Lawrence college Saturday evening. Champagne will be served. Prof. A. D. Powers, E. A. Beck, and A. L. Franke. Arrangements for the party are in charge by Bernard Herick of Marshfield, Fred Kleiber of Waukau, and Bruce Pannier of Chippewa Falls. Three other parties will be given during the year.

Mrs. Catherine Williams entertained at a linen shower in honor of her daughter Catherine Thursday evening at her home at 1005 N. Morrison-st. Miss Williams will be married in November. Dice were played, prizes going to Mrs. Walter Piette and Mrs. Ray Trieber. Other guests at the party were: Mrs. George Brenigan, Mrs. Leonard Williams, Mrs. Martin Williams, Mrs. Forest McCormick, Mrs. Helen Rehfeldt, Mrs. Irvin Hawley, Mrs. Edward Knaack, Mrs. Edward Peotter and Mrs. Eric Peotter.

Mrs. Ferdinand Arnold, 1032 W. Lawrence-st, was surprised by a number of friends and relatives Wednesday evening, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Cards were played.

About 35 couples attended the dancing party for Knights of Columbus and their ladies Thursday evening at Catholic home following the regular business meeting of the lodge. During the meeting, the ladies played bridge. Prizes were won by Miss Delia Schmidt and Mrs. F. J. Rooney.

NEW LONDON
SOCIETY

New London—The Christian Community club, an organization of young people of the Congregational church, also known as the Tri club, will meet at the church school room Sunday evening. The program will be in charge of Miss Mary Boddie and Tom Polley. Officers include Miss Jean Dessel, president; Miss Ruth Beumler vice president; Miss Marjorie Boddie, secretary; Miss Mildred Lyon, treasurer; Misses Charlotte Haun and Anna Howe and Rev. Henry P. Freeling, advisors.

Members of the Guild of St. John Episcopal church and their friends assembled at the home of Mrs. George Lea on Quincy-st Wednesday afternoon for a social meeting. The afternoon was featured as a thimble party and was concluded with the serving of lunch. The guild is planning a number of similar social gatherings during the winter.

The next regular meeting of the Woman's Study club will be held at the home of Mrs. Nelson Deming on Hancock-st on Monday, Nov. 8. Mrs. Helen Niven, Mrs. G. W. Deming and Rev. Henry P. Freeling are on the program.

With the opening of the bowling season at the Elite alleys Wednesday evening teams of the minor league staged two games. The first match, between the Ross Shoes and Cris's, resulted in a loss of two games to Cris's. New York Life won two games from the Standard Oil team.

A recent meeting held by bowling fans of the city resulted in Leonard Cline being elected president of the organization. George Pooley, secretary and treasurer. A schedule of games has been drawn up into two seasons with cash prizes for first, second and third places to be awarded to the winners. Two Leagues, the major and minor, will roll while other organizations no doubt will form teams before long.

The major league is comprised of Vaughn's, Borden's, Hi-Way Motors and Kiefer's teams while the minor league has as its team members the New York Life, Ross Shoes, Cris's and Standard Oils. The major league teams will play on Monday evening.

Teachers attending the annual convention of the New London public and high school teachers left Wednesday afternoon to attend the annual teachers convention at Milwaukee. With few exceptions the entire teaching personnel is present there. Morning sessions are given over largely to lectures by noted personages, ending usually with community singing. Afternoons are set aside for visits to the different schools and the Milwaukee Normal where class room visits are of benefit to the teaching mind. Evenings are left free for entertainment. Many of the teachers from this city expected to attend the concert at which John McCormick will sing.

DIRECTORS SELECT
SITE FOR HOSPITAL

Charles Remick Home on Main and Quincy-sts Is Leased by Board

New London—Meeting in conference Wednesday, the hospital board closed a deal for the lease on the Charles Remick house on Main and Quincy-sts, which will be used as a hospital for the doctors of this city and the surrounding community.

The hospital board has had several houses under consideration during the past week, many of which had points which seemed advantageous to the necessities of a hospital, but after due consideration it was thought that the Remick home came nearer to fulfilling all needs. Few changes if any will need to be made save for redecorating and installing the necessary equipment.

The house is large, well preserved and situated on a paved street. It has a large roomy basement, living room, kitchen and one bedroom on the first floor while above there are five large bedrooms and a bath, conveniently placed. The house is modernly equipped and well planned for the needs of a small well ordered hospital such as is planned by the board.

With the fund already at the disposal of the board, the New London Civic Improvement society has pledged the furnishing of one room while other organizations have manifested a willingness to aid in the maintenance and furnishing of the project.

The building will be vacated Dec. 1, after which the hospital board and hospital auxiliary will no doubt begin preparations for the opening of the New London Community hospital.

DELEGATE OF WOMANS
CLUB SUBMITS REPORT

New London—Mrs. R. J. Small, delegate from the local Catholic Women's club at the Green Bay Diocesan council of Catholic Women held at Green Bay last week, returned home with a report of an enthusiastic session attended by over 100 delegates. One of the principal matters of discussion was the establishment of a permanent working girls camp at Shawano.

MOTHER FALLS, HURTS SELF, BUT SAVES CHILD

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Descending the stairs at her home on Wyman-st, Wednesday, holding her infant son in her arms, Mrs. George Ruppel tripped and fell. In her attempt to save her child from injury, Mrs. Ruppel encountered the edge of a window sill and received a broken collar bone and severe bruises and cuts upon her arm. The baby was unharmed.

Rabbit and squirrel season open for the first week end.

As to shells—just say Remington Rabbit Load.
As to a gun—we rent them.
It is good luck to take a new piece of hunting equipment on the season's first trip and wouldn't you like to initiate a new hunting coat with the limit.

We have an all rubber pack that is absolutely watertight even against wet snow and much better looking than the old lumberman's over with leather top.

A few good rabbit lunts at this time will be healthy preparation for the driving of deer a month from now.

ONLY SMALL VOTE AT FREMONT ON TUESDAY

Special to Post-Crescent
Fremont—The village vote at Tuesday's election was only 36, about half the number of votes cast in a special election this summer. In the town of Waukegan were cast. The village and town favored all Republican candidates with a majority vote with the exception of the county office of sheriff, which Steenboch, Independent, carried. The first and last referendum questions were voted for in the village and town, and the governor's salary question was opposed in the village and favored in the town. The vote in the village was as follows: governor, Zimmerman, 38; Perry, 10; lieutenant-governor, Huber, 41; secretary of state, Dammann, 43; treasurer, 42; attorney general, Reynolds, 33; United States Senator, Elaine, 33; Ross, 10; Titmore, 6. Member of Congress, Eighth district, Browne, 33; Walsh, State senator, Severson, 38. County clerk, Schoemaker, 50. Treasurer, Stadler, 43. Sheriff, Hanson, 19. Steenboch, 34. Coroner, VanDusting, 43. District attorney, William Tule, 43. Jorgensen, 44. Surveyor, Miller, 42.

Frank Goetsch, 21, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gage, died after a brief illness Tuesday evening. Funeral services will be held at the St. Peter's church at Weyauwega at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with Rev. M. Menzel in charge. Burial will be made at Lakeside cemetery, Fremont.

Fremont skat onkels attended a skat party at the American Legion hall, Weyauwega, Monday evening. Those present here were William Tule, Maynard Sherburne, Dr. C. P. Rehling, Joe Gisl, Jr., I. E. Bauer, Thaxter Kinsman, and Edwin Sader. Mr. Sader won first prize.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid society met at the parochial school building, Wednesday afternoon. The hostesses were Mrs. William Kramer, Mrs. Frank Looker and Mrs. M. Martin.

Special to Post-Crescent
The Fremont state bank closed on Tuesday for election, and the Wolf River Pearl Button Co. allowed the employees an hour off for voting.

Riverside camp No. 9395, R. N. A., will hold a meeting at the village hall, Friday evening.

The Union Ladies Aid society met with Mrs. Alpheus Steiger, Thursday afternoon.

There will be English services at the St. Paul's Lutheran church at 10 o'clock Sunday forenoon. Sunday school will be held after church services. German and English services will be held at 8 o'clock Sunday eve.

STAGE And SCREENADOLPH MENJOU CHOOSES
ARLEN STORY AS VEHICLE

"The most sensational literary phenomenon of the decade" is the way one critic describes Michael Arlen, author of "The Ace of Cads," which has been made into a Paramount picture with Adolph Menjou starring in the title role.

Writing about English society in an original satiric manner, Arlen, a young Armenian who makes London his home, has jumped into the "best seller" class with amazing swiftness. His best known books are "Mayfair," "The Green Hat" and "The Last Days of Pompeii." As stage plays, the last two were astounding hits on Broadway.

"Mayfair" was adapted for screen use by Forest Halsey, and directed by Luther Reed. Adolph Menjou's choice of "The Ace of Cads" as a starring vehicle was a happy one, as it enables him to portray the kind of role in which he is most popular—a sophisticated London society man who "sees" his sins as nonchalantly as a monocle. Featured in support of the actor are Alice Joyce and Norman Trevor. The film arrives at the Fischer's Appleton Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. A word to the wise—is more than sufficient.

BUCK JONES SHOWS

IN NEW PICTURE

Buck Jones, star of the Fox Films production, "The Cowboy and the Countess," at the New Bijou today and Saturday, has never had a better vehicle in which to display his wonderful skill in roping and riding.

As Jerry Whipple, handsome young owner of the Boot Jack Ranch, he is seen first at his ranch where he gives practical demonstrations on his own stock. Then later in the picture he shows some fancy tricks, while touring Europe, with his band of cowboys in a Western Rodeo.

The story of "The Cowboy and the Countess" has a highly original plot, dealing with the adventures of typical western cowboys in Europe.

Their trip across is filled with up-to-the-minute situations and their adventures after they arrive are equally exciting.

Lovely Helena D'Alay plays opposite Jones in the role of Elsa Verlainne, the daughter of a Belgian nobleman whom Jerry follows to Europe. It is not until the very end of the picture, however, that Jerry's love affairs look even half-way hopeful, but eventually things straighten out in a most unexpected manner.

Others in the cast include Diana Miller, Harvey Clark and Fletcher Norton. R. William Neil directed the production.

LANGDON SMASHES LAUGH RECORD

Harry Langdon's latest laugh riot, "The Strong Man," showing at the 12th Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday, whole family will like.

If you like to laugh—"The Strong Man" will knock you for a joyful loop, give you a ticklish somersault, and catch you with a chestgurgler on the rebound.

If you like to cry—"The Strong Man" will stop your breath with a hoarse catch, will send the tears rolling down your cheeks, and quicken your pulse with pathetic sympathy for the wistful, moon-faced, lonesome boy who strolls across the screen in the appealing personality of Harry Langdon.

Particular, this comedy is. If it had been an actor who considers himself an emotional dramatist playing the role of the ex-Belgian soldier searching for his American guardian angel, "The Strong Man" would have been hailed as one of the most poignant and heart-catching of the year's films.

As it is, with the inimitable Harry Langdon in the title role, we have a curious, yet remarkably attractive mixture of the brilliant laughter and the softest sobbing. Chaplin has a rival at last for pathos humor.

TAX SITUATION
MAY BE PUT UP TO COUNTY VOTERS

Taking the tax question to the tax payer will be the method executed by the finance committee of the county board of supervisors if two meetings proposed by the committee are held during the coming session of the county board as a whole, according to a project suggested at recent gathering of the finance body.

The proposal calls for a meeting at Seymour and one at some other strategic point in the county.

"What can we do to reduce taxes?" It is understood will be the question submitted to the voters and financial supporters of the county.

COUNTY COURT DISPOSES OF PENSION CLAIMS

An application for an old age pension was granted, one was disallowed and one held open, one widow's pension was discontinued as the child passed 14 years of age, 2 applications were held open for further investigation, 8 were renewed and one new application was taken under advisement by Judge Fred Henneman on Thursday. The hearings were held in county court.

ORGANIZE "KIDS" OF CITY TO ROOT AT COLLEGE GAMES

Lawrence and Y. M. C. A. Sponsor Club for Appleton Youngsters

All boys of Appleton under senior high school age will be admitted free to Lawrence college football games provided they join a Lawrence boosters club and sit together in a certain section of the stands, according to plans started Thursday by Fred Treise and John W. Pugh, local secretary of the Y. M. C. A. It is proposed that the boys form a club, choose their own name, and take part in Lawrence pep rallies besides cheering the team from their special section at the games. The group will be organized and cheer leaders will be chosen.

Organization will be started in the schools. Plans are being made to have the group organized for the Lawrence-Carroll homecoming game a week from Saturday. The boys will receive certificates of membership and also admission tickets to the Blue games. The first pep rally of the club probably will be held on the college campus the night before the Carroll game.

The proposed club will interest Appleton youths in Lawrence games, adds a feature boosting section, and will eliminate the practice of "sneaking" into games. It is believed it is being tried in many large universities including Indiana where Coach H. O. "Pat" Page is an enthusiastic believer in admitting the boys as a booster section. Page brought the idea from Butler college where it was a great success. Lawrence is the only school which is attempting the idea through the schools of the city and the Y. M. C. A., however.

The letter from Manager Treise to Mr. Pugh which launched the club Thursday and which will be sent to all schools of the city with an explanatory note follows:

"This is a challenge. This is being issued in behalf of the youngsters of Appleton, who have not been privileged to see Lawrence college football teams in action or who have been compelled to break down barriers and the fundamentals of character in order to see their heroes of the gridiron play."

"Of all the duties which fall upon the management of home games there is none so laudable, despicable or difficult as that of preventing the admission of these Lawrence boosters to our football games. This has been necessary because we have been unable to mount and conduct of these youngsters after they were in the field."

"Here is an opportunity to sponsor an organization among the youngsters of the city which will, I believe, be unique throughout the land, an opportunity to foster a spirit of wholesome-ness and character and its essentials among the kids of the city and to curb the formation of questionable habits to a large extent. It will make them boosters for the agencies and institutions which are dedicated to their welfare and to Lawrence college during the most impressionable age of their lives, and will mean for them particularly a chance to see college football played and to cheer for their heroes under legitimate circumstances."

HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES CONDUCT TWO DEBATES

Debates on the questions of abolishment of submarines from modern warfare, and governmental ownership of railroads were held in two classes at Appleton high school Wednesday afternoon. The summer session was debated by English sections of Miss Dora Kelly and Miss Ethel Neithus, and the railroad proposition by two teams from Miss Edna Denton's class in industrial geography.

Boys representing Miss Kelly's class were Aloysius Gage, Robert Roemer, and Carlton Roth, and three members from Miss Neithus section were Charles Peetenboom, Miss Florence Hertel, and Orville Strutz. The affirmative team in the second debate included Oscar Forbeck, Edward Maurer, Carl Jebe and Robert Shepherd; and the negative, Miss Marcelle Berg, William Hawkes, Everett Stecker and Robert Matz.

BALLARD GETS STUB OF VOTING PENCIL USED FOR 45 YEARS

When C. B. Ballard, former state treasury agent, stepped into the Grand Chute polling place last Tuesday morning he cast his vote the said it wasn't for Mr. Blaine) he was met by a reception committee which presented him with a package and a neat little speck. Mr. Ballard, with nervous fingers opened the parcel and after great quantities of paper had been removed he found a tiny stub of a lead pencil which apparently had been doing duty for years in a voting booth. The chairman of festivities then explained that when the booth was opened it was found that Mr. Ballard's pencil had been so worn down by use—he has voted in the town for 45 years—that it was necessary to procure another one and it was believed fitting he should have the stub. Mr. Ballard, however, marked his ballot with the stub and expects to scratch crosses on ballots with it for at least a few more years.

CHAMBER TALKS OF SECURING LANDING FIELD NEAR CITY

Matter Is Referred to Industrial Committee by Directors

The feasibility of procuring a landing field near Appleton in order to keep this city abreast of the development along commercial aviation lines was meeting of directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at Conway hotel.

The matter was referred to the industrial committee for further study and investigation. Although no further action was taken, it appeared to be the opinion of the majority present that a landing field should be provided here. Commercial aviation, it was pointed out, is coming to be an important factor in the economic life of the country, and those cities which have landing fields when new commercial routes are organized will have a decided advantage over those which have not.

The subject was discussed freely at the recent meeting of commercial organization secretaries at Pittsburg, Pa., according to Hugh G. Corbett, general secretary of the local chamber, who attended.

HI-Y CLUB WILL HAVE FLOAT IN "PEP" PARADE

The Hi-Y club will sponsor a float for the "pep" parade of Appleton high school on Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, the night before the Appleton-Kaukauna football game, it was decided at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Members of the Roosevelt school Triangle club were guests of the Hi-Y at the meeting. Plans for the local delegation to the state older boys' conference at Racine from Nov. 25 to 28 occupied most of the meeting.

Before the Hi-Y meeting the Roosevelt club held a brief session. The club decided to meet again at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the association building. Final preparation of the club constitution is to take place at that time, according to the officers.

Fun for children on the playground makes wholesome GOOD LUCK necessary on the table

Keep Children's Energy and Health at top notch with GOOD LUCK on their Bread

There's no time to be lost when little feet troop in from the playground. Mothers must be quick with bread and GOOD LUCK to satisfy ravenous appetites.

Wholesome GOOD LUCK is just the thing to serve at such a time. It's easy to fix . . . and has the sound food values that send revivifying energy and nourishment throughout the being.

Spread it on thick, mothers. It's made from whole country milk and rich, prime meat fats. Youthful appetites, made keen by exercise on the playground, need wholesome, delicious food like this. GOOD LUCK smooths the road to Healthville for little feet.

"Dummy Drill"

IT'S one thing to be a tackling hero against the sawdust dummy, but running into the flesh-and-bone reality on the field—that's something else again.

Alleged "improvements," and new kinds and grades of motor gas are kicking up a world of dust across the nation—hurling the weight of their comparisons crushingly against low-quality opposition or smashing the "detonation" boggy convincingly to earth.

That's great—while they stay where there's been nothing but low-grade opposition to knock down with their comparisons. But they find it something else again, in the field where Wadhams real gasoline quality is the established order of the day.

In fact, you'd never be seeing any of this national selling propaganda if the whole country were enjoying gas equal to Wadhams.

Wadhams 370 True Gasoline

offers no "improvements," has no story to tell of superior processes, or miraculous discoveries to induce quick starting or to smother knocking.

It cannot parade as novelties the very qualities that have been its staple stock-in-trade for years—the qualities of immediate starting, rapid warming-up, instant acceleration, maximum speed and unparalleled power and mileage — and natural protection against the "knocking" evil. As far as its distribution reaches, it remains master in the domain it chose and made for itself at the beginning—the quality field of superior value based on the sound foundation of superior materials—not on processes designed to make kerosene seem like gasoline and bring gasoline's price.

SATURDAY GAMES

LAWRENCE AT BELOIT. Ripon at Carroll.

Concluding the week's work with a short, light scrimmage Thursday afternoon Coach Mark Catlin and 21 of his fighting Bluejacks prepared for the trip to Beloit where the Lawrence hopes were to meet their old rivals in battle. The Blues were to leave Friday afternoon. Men making the trip were Hipse, center; Johnson, Weinkauf, Steensland, guards; Cunnell and Ott, tackles; Nason and Bruesse, halfbacks; Barfell, fullback; Bloomer quarterback; Hillman and Jessup ends; Hilton and Bayer, reserve ends; Kahler and Artz, reserve linemen; Dreher, Heideman, Hunter and Schlagendorf, reserve backs.

The Blue starting lineup is fixed except for the guards. Elmer at center, Cunnell and Ott at tackles, Hillman and Jessup at ends, Bruesse and Nason at halfbacks, Barfell at fullback and Bloomer at quarterback. Starting guards will be selected from Schauer, Weinkauf, Steensland and Johnson.

Stewie Lawrence, Beloit quarterback, said to be one of the best open field runners in the state as well as a fine passer and punter, raised the Beloit hopes by returning to the squad this week after being out with injuries.

Captain Tim Grady, the Butte Bad Man, whose playing was one of the bright spots in another wise drab performance, has conceded a bad knee but he should be able to resume his waders.

MARQUETTE BATTLES OLD RIVALS SATURDAY

Milwaukee (AP)—Milwaukee gets another taste of big time football Saturday when the Marquette university Golden Avalanche and the undefeated Kansas Aggies, Missouri Valley conference title contenders, will clash in the Marquette stadium as the piece de resistance of the Hill-top homecoming.

Coach Charles Bachman's Aggies compose one of the fastest gridiron aggregations in midwestern athletics this year, and they anticipate little trouble in turning back Marquette just as they have defeated Texas, Creighton, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas. Marquette gridders big to disagree, however, and there is every indication of a close battle Saturday.

Marquette and the Aggies fought through four tense quarters in a snowstorm here last year, and 12,000 people sat through the melee to see the Kansas win, 2 to 0. All of the spectators will be back this year, expecting to see but a continuation of that clash. The Aggie line, a veteran wall, averages about 200 pounds, considerably higher than the Marquette line.

Names Used For Grid Positions Mean Little

BY C. A. SHAUGHNESSY Fundamental football is simple. Eleven men have the ball. They try to carry it down the field to a touchdown by line-backs, end runs, forward passes, punting, etc., in accordance with certain rules. Eleven men try to stop them by blocking, tackling and such methods as are permitted by those same football rules. These rules are enforced by a set of officials. That's all. But in those limits there is room for infinite speed, courage, strategy and intelligence. Everybody knows the old traditional names for the players. Center, right and left guard, right and left tackle, right and left end, quarterback, right and left halfback, fullback. Under the old football system the center stood in the center of the line and snapped the ball. On each side of him stood the right and left guard. On each side of them were the right and left ends. That was the line. Just back of the center, receiving the ball as the center snapped it back, stood the quarterback. Just back of him stood the fullback and flanking him on each side stood the right and left halfbacks. Those names for the players' positions still are fairly accurate and descriptive for a team on the defense that is, when the other team has the ball.

COMBINED LOCKS BOY AT FULLBACK FOR ROCKNE CREW

Red Smith Shifted from Regular Guard to Strengthen Backs for Hoosiers

Richard "Red" Smith of Combined Locks, regular guard on the Notre Dame football team and a former Lawrence college star, will play fullback for the Rockne crew when they leave for South Bend, Ind., today. Smith, a stellar line game, but injuries took the fourth Irish fullback to be wrecked this season during the last week, leaving only Smith, who had been shifted to the rear wall to bolster the middle job.

Wynne, Collins and O'Boyle had been shifted onto the injured list earlier in the year and McCabe, who was filling in as the fourth fullback, was injured this week. Fear of more injuries which would wreck the Irish chances kept them at light work the latter part of the week.

With Smith in the rear wall will be another Fox river valley boy, Capt. Red Heardon of Green Bay. It may pay to get in at a half with Heardon the entire three men behind the quarterback may be Valley products if Roach of Appleton should happen to get in at a half with Heardon at the other end and Smith at fullback. Roach scored Notre Dame's first touchdown against George Tech and then returned.

CHILD OF PUBLIC

"I am now a child of the public, subject to its whims," said Gene Tunney in an interview immediately following the winning of the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey.

STAR PLAYERS FAIL AS CLUB MANAGERS

Major league owners are becoming more than ever convinced that the wisdom of making a star player manager when he is at the top of his game, is decidedly questionable. In like manner, I never could understand why a star player, still in his prime, should want to handicap his game by saddling on himself the added responsibilities of manager.

There is enough we, worry, and thought to managing a big league club, that it is a one-man job. Failure of his club to win, is certain to reflect itself in the work of the star player-manager.

It seems much more sensible to get all there is out of the star as a player before considering his possibilities as a manager.

WESTERN CONFERENCE DISAPPROVES SHIFT

Chicago (AP)—The Western Conference is taking up arms against the shift in football with Bob Zuppke of Illinois emphatically outspoken in his opposition to the feature.

"I intend to do everything in my power to eliminate the shift plays," Zuppke declared in discussing the likelihood of such action at the rules committee meeting this winter in New York. The offensive eleven has to much advantage, he argued, in hurling its attack against the defensive team with the aid of momentum acquired by rhythmic shifting which ball in use during the 1925 playing season was livelier or deadlier than the one in use during the two or three previous years. He was prompt to reply: "We have the best ball now I think we ever had. Of course, perhaps it isn't quite as lively as some of them we've used in other seasons. But it's lively enough."

HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAMS GUESTS AT BLUE HOMECOMING

Prep Teams Invited to Blue-Carroll Game; Badger Frosh Sensation Here

Gridiron players of every high school within 50 miles of Appleton have been invited to attend the Lawrence-Carroll Homecoming football game at Whiting field Saturday, Nov. 13, according to Fred Trezise, Blue athletic manager. It is expected that a large number of the coaches will bring their entire squads if they have no games scheduled for that day.

In addition, Johnny Cavosie, sensation of the Badger frosh, who has made the Little first team look bad several times this year will be here as Mr. Trezise's guest. He was dubbed the best high school gridder in the country and at least four western universities were anxious to have him on their campuses. He is a marvelous kicker, runner and passer and specializes in 50 and 55 yard drop kicks and 90-yard punts.

Townpeople of Appleton and Lawrence students add grads are cooperating to plan the three-day homecoming from Nov. 12 to 14, the biggest venture of its kind on the Blue campus. Preliminary plans have been made including an outdoor pep rally to open the affair Friday evening on the campus and a parade through the business district Saturday morning. Frat and sorority reunions will be held Saturday and Sunday noons.

RIPON EXPECTS TO GIVE FOES BATTLE

Blues Thought to Have Little Chance of Humbling Carroll Next Week

Ripon—Over half of the Ripon student body will travel to Waukesha on Saturday to see Carroll and Ripon clash for the Wisconsin-Illinois conference title. The Red warriors came out of the Beloit scrap unscathed and are determined to upset the Carroll clan for the first time in a number of years at the Orange's homecoming this week.

Two years ago the Redmen dampened the spirit at Carroll's annual grid day by holding the Armstrong eleven to a scoreless tie after the "Pioneers" had been doped out by a big margin. Ripon held for eight consecutive downs on its own 2 yard line to the Carroll and share conference honors with the down state aggregation.

After tying Lawrence and running roughly over Beloit the Crimson grid machine is rapidly getting under way and is gathering momentum at every turn. The spirit of the eleven is higher than it has been in some years and a fighting team will face the Pioneers on Saturday.

Northwestern will face the Forest on the Lake Forest field in the only remaining Wisconsin-Illinois clash this week. Carroll and Ripon will battle for the lead next week.

Although Lawrence will have a chance to cop the title by winning from Carroll next week although the Blue even is not expected to beat the Pioneers.

National Loop Strong For Use of Resin Ball

Asheville, N. C. — The National League is entirely satisfied with results obtained during the 1925 baseball race from the use of resin pitched its pitchers. John Heydler, president of the senior circuit, during a visit to this city, outlined results obtained from use of resin by his pitchers.

"Resin helped the National League wonderfully," said Heydler. "I can't say whether it improved our hitting, but it did eliminate a terrible lot of useless wrangling between rival batters, the opposing pitcher, and the umpires."

"Not once all season long were my umpires forced to halt a game and inspect a ball. No charges were flung at a rival pitcher by the batsman, accusing him of cheating or using anything illegal."

"Before we passed the resin rule, games often were held up several times in an afternoon. The batter, finding a pitched ball, would get the umpire to look at the ball. Then these disgusting rows would take place. They didn't help baseball; they took up time and delayed the game."

CHICAGO MEN BUY RAGINE PRO SQUAD

The franchise of the Racine Tornadoes football team of the National Pro loop has been purchased by a trio of Chicago men, it was announced at Racine this week. A representative of the trio visited at Racine but would not disclose the names of his backers. The new owners will assume possession immediately. Where they will take the club is an uncertainty, but they will have to finish out the season or pay a large cash forfeit to the league.

Racine still has games to be played with the Green Bay Packers, Milwaukee Badgers and Dayton. The former two are state title as well as national battles. Raymond "Champ" Boettcher, former Lawrence star, plays with the Racine crew.

is within or without the law by the margin of a second's fraction. Stagg at Chicago "wouldn't like to see that happen" but confessed that "there doesn't seem to be any other change in the present rule except to abolish the shift entirely."

Suggestion of general support of the view by eastern coaches comes from Tom Thorp, eastern game official, who agrees with Zuppke that officials find it virtually impossible to accurately enforce the law and believes 90 per cent of the coaches on the seaboard favor abolition of the shift.

BLUE HARRIERS OFF FOR ILLINOIS CITY

Christophmen Race North Central College of Naperville on Saturday

Director of Athletics George Christoph and five Blue cross-country men will leave Friday night for Naperville, Ill., where they will clash with the crack North Central college squad Saturday afternoon. Bluejacks making the trip are Capt. Kingsbury, Purvis, Mueller, Jones and Fischl. The Blues are handicapped this year in that freshmen are ineligible for competition and much of the Lawrence strength lies in its yearlings the all-college cross-country run showed.

Brooks, star of the North Central team, is Illinois two-mile champ and one of the best in the west. Recently he ran a dead heat with a few feet of the tape with Mel Shimek, known as one of the country's best two-milers. Shimek, who of the proverbial hair in the last foot of the proverbial hair, perate spirit. With Brooks are several other good men and though Lawrence beat the Illini by a close margin here last year, they are the underdog Saturday.

Coach Christoph has been working his men hard this week and they are in fine shape to do a little dope upsetting. Purvis, who finished third against Marquette last week, and Kingsbury are expected to be the Blue mainstays.

NEW CITY PIN LEAGUE GETS STARTED SUNDAY

Appleton's new City Bowling League will start its 1926-27 schedule Sunday afternoon at the Elk, Eagle and Arcade alleys, it was decided Wednesday evening at a meeting at Eagle alleys. Six teams, two from each alley, will be members of the loop but the names for the teams have not yet been chosen. The final meeting before the top season starts will be held Saturday evening at Eagle alleys and final plans for the league will be completed at that time.

Sundry the home teams will meet with the Eagle squads clashing on the Elk alleys, the Elk squads on the Elk alleys and the Arcade squads on the Arcade alleys. As last year all games will be rolled on Sunday afternoons.

HORWEEN HAS SUCCESS IN 1ST YEAR IN EAST

—Since the passing of Percy Haughton as head coach, Harvard has had few fat years in football, particularly in the big games of the year against Yale and Princeton. In an effort to get results, the Fisher regime of coaching was done away with and Arnold Horween, former Harvard star, placed in charge of the Crimson. While it takes several years to install a new system, Horween is meeting with excellent results in his debut.

CLOSEST GAMES OF YEAR IN BIG TENIowa-Gopher Games Are "Anybody's"

Chicago—(AP)—Four Western Conference football teams pitched their wits Friday on the fields where Saturday promises the closest days of the big ten has seen this fall.

The "anybody's game" given the Illinois-Chicago encounter by Zupke of the Illini, appeared on the eve of conflict, generally appropriate for the day, and suggestive of major complications in the 1926 title fight.

Phelan of Northwestern and Thistlewaite of Northwestern had nothing whatever to say about their encounter at Evanston from which one of the eleven undefeated in the conference is expected to emerge a title challenger.

Both teams are at top form on defensive play against a fair distribution of stellar material and possessed of offenses that have shown similar power.

At Iowa City it's a case of two teams that have demonstrated scoring ability but been comparatively weak in defense.

The prospect of a dashed fight between Iowa's attack and the mauling Minnesota charge which centers about Joeesting.

Wisconsin trekked to Ann Arbor for a favorite to suffer at the hands of the Michigan team desirous of regaining the prestige lost by past week's defeat at the hands of Navy. Michigan is given a better chance by far but Wisconsin's game has developed steadily during the week.

Undaunted by a string of defeats for his Indiana youngsters Pat Page brought three full teams to Notre Dame, where the non-conference game is a conditioner for the crew Rockne will hurl against Army at New York a week hence.

Ohio is resting in preparation for its try at Michigan and the Big Ten title on Nov. 13.

MILWAUKEE HOPES
TO WHIP PACKERSCity Enthused Over State
Title Game Between Badgers and Bay's Pride

Milwaukee—About once every season Milwaukee gets enthused over a pro football game and it is always when the Green Bay Packers play here. So naturally, there is a lot of "football talk" in the air about what is going to happen at the athletic park on Sunday, when the Big Bay Blues from "up north" rub elbows with Johnny Bryan's Badgers, in a state championship game.

This is going to be the biggest football weekend of the season in Milwaukee. Saturday, Marquette, stages its homecoming game with the Kansas City Aggies, one of the strongest teams in the Missouri Valley conference. Hundreds of Hilltop grads from all over the country are coming back for the annual re-union, and many of them will stay over to see the professional teams do their stuff on Sunday.

Several Marquette products are performing with the Badgers and the graduates will jump at the chance to see them in action again on the chalk marked field. Dilwek, Lane and Helmsch are listed among the all-time gridiron heroes at Marquette.

Green Bay has never tasted a defeat on a Milwaukee gridiron. Back in 1921, the Packers played a tie game here with Racine, 3 to 2 in 1922, the Bay's fought a 0 to 0 tie with Milwaukee at Athletic park and later, in the season bumped Racine off here, 14 to 0 in a state championship encounter.

In 1923, the Packers walloped Milwaukee 10 to 7, in a thrilling combat, Capt. Lambeau won the game in the fourth quarter when he grabbed a pass from Mathys and ran the Badgers the Packers twisted the Badgers' ankles for a touchdown. In 1924, the Packers twisted the Badgers' tail, 17 to 0, while last year McGurk's misfits took the count 7 to 0.

However, this year Johnny Ryan says it is going to be a different story. His team took a 7 to 0 licking at the Bay a few weeks back but the Badgers claim a lucky break paved the way for their downfall and that they are going to get even this time out.

HARVARD-TIGER GAME IS FEATURE IN EAST

New York—(AP)—Eleven Harvard huskies sought rest in final preparation for Saturday's battle with Princeton, a team that in the past has made football emergencies famous by rising to them.

The odds favor Harvard and again Jake Slagle, the triple threat, is fit for the fray, a combination of circumstances that has preceded overwhelming Princeton victories in the last two clashes of the historic Big Three rivals.

Pennsylvania is inhaling quantities of salt air at Gulf club on the Jersey coast and limbering up muscles for the drive against Penn State.

New York University has silk pants nicely brushed for Carnegie Tech.

Syracuse has mastered intricate Georgetown play. Pittsburg's power-ful eleven is on edge for West Virginia, defeated only by Missouri this season.

Substitutes are likely to be used by Army and sundry other leading eastern teams Saturday which have easy opponents. Columbia fears the passes of William and Mary, and Navy must face West Virginia Wesleyan, the eleven that married the Boston college increased goal line last Saturday. Yale expects no trouble with Maryland.

Kaukauna is said to have lost one of its backfield stars, a member of the Gallopings "Ghoats." If such still is the case Thursday the Kaws will be hard hit for their game with Appleton. However, the Orange also is the victim of injuries. With only three capable ends in the school, only one is ready for Kaukauna and he was injured and is still recovering. That is Schneider. Of the other men Hartung has a broken bone in his hand and Cookson will be over the age limit. This column hopes that Hishon, the Kaws star is ready for the tilt as well as the local ends and Witke, a half. With both teams at full strength a real battle is assured.

A sure sign of approaching basketball season is the letters being received by caging moguls in this neck of the woods from so-called champion touring aggregations. However, this is going to be a lot year for the tourists in Wisconsin and only quinquets of a known 'rep' will be taken on.

Dave Zuldulder, former East high flash, is making a name for himself in the football line at St. Ambrose college. In the homecoming game against Upper Iowa university of Hilltop graduate was just about the whole show. Ray Nauman and Brunette, two other Bayites, are also playing on the same eleven.

In another couple of weeks, the all-Valley football selections will be in print. Unless some of the players show a reversal of form, there will be a little doubt about the backfield berths. However, it will take a 'Hugh Fullerton' to satisfy everybody on choice for positions in the line.

DETROIT TEAM SHOWS
UTTER LACK OF PUNCH

Detroit—University of Detroit, a few years ago rated with some of the strongest football aggregations in the middle west, is experiencing a poor campaign this fall.

Lack of real scoring punch seems to be troubling the Dorois eleven for the most part. In the recent game with John Carroll the Detroit team beat the foe in everything but points, in fact, was rather lucky to gain a 7-7 tie.

In its first five games Detroit scored but 27 points all told, showing there is something decidedly wrong with the aggregation's punch when a chance to push over a tally presents itself.

"COWBOY" KUTSCH WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR PLAY

Chicago—(AP)—Whatever discussion there may be in Iowa relative to the eligibility of "Cowboy" Kutsch, Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Western Conference says the University of Iowa star is eligible to compete in Big Ten football for another year.

Major Griffith's comment was in connection with the report that a member of the Iowa State board of education has announced his intention to have the body bar Kutsch from the Hawkeye team next year. The two years of football played at Kutsch at Trinity college, a small Iowa school are the issue. Griffith said Kutsch's two years at Trinity were of a prep school nature.

San Antonio, Texas—Mike Vasquez, El Paso featherweight champion of Mexico, outpointed Phil O'Dowd, Columbus, Ohio (10).

Passaic, N. J.—Ad Stone, Paterson scored a technical knockout over George Gemas, Philadelphia. (6).

Lynn, Mass.—Silvio Mireault, Montreal defeated Joe Cook, New Orleans, (10).

Motorists and Tourists Attention:

All motorists, and particularly tourists, have need of a concise road book with descriptions of the highways.

To many people the thought of travel in unknown country entails doubt. For this reason it is imperative that some carefully prepared information be secured.

The Washington Bureau of this paper has for distribution a booklet that exactly fills the requirements.

In addition to giving descriptions and markings of the great national highways it contains many suggestions that will save time, money, and annoyance.

It will help not only in planning a tour, but also in carrying it through.

Clip the accompanying coupon and send it to the Washington Information Bureau of this paper. Enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling. The book will go forward by return mail.

Madison—The Badgers, 33 strong, together with the regulation quota of coaches, trainers and managers, will invade the Wolverine stronghold Saturday, where the pupils of Little and Yost, respectively, will battle before a homecoming audience for honors in their thirteenth grid encounter. Thursday saw Wisconsin mentors complete preparations for the clash with the Yostmen with a workout at Camp Randall. For the past week the coaches here have been building up a forward pass defensive to stop the machine-like Friedman to Oosterbaan combination, and at the same time brushing up on their own attack.

Because of injuries received in the meeting with Minnesota, several Wisconsin's regular will be out of the line.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES BOTHER PRO SQUADS

New York—(AP)—Harold Hanhen, manager of the Newark professional football team, has withdrawn his team from the American league because of financial difficulties. Three rainy week ends in succession have piled up losses he says. Cleveland withdrew from the C. C. Pyle circuit earlier this week.

Humbert Fugazy announces that his Brooklyn Horsemen in the same league will share in the club's profits from now on although the same have been zero to date.

up, according to authoritative accounts. Burrus and Straubel, veteran Cardinal forwards, are suffering most from the battering of last Saturday. The team, which left the city Thursday night, will "take time out" Friday for a light secret drill at a town along the way, the name which officials are holding secret. They will arrive at Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, shortly before game time.

And the Wolverines, aptly titled by Yost as his "Wonder Team", will be on hand to meet the invaders, with a determination to atone for their 10-0 defeat at the hands of the Navy last week. Mr. Yost promises a comeback even though he may be obliged to bench several of his reliable performers. Despite the Michigan coach's pessimistic outlook on any future clash, the Michigan aggregation is primed to do battle. With Oosterbaan and Flora at the ends to catch "Benjie" Friedman's well-delivered passes, with "Bo" Molendo, veteran fullback, operating from the old post with two years' veterans at the guard in the persons of Lovette and Baer, the outlook for Michigan victory is bright.

SAYS PICTURES DEPEND UPON CREATIVE GENIUS

Hollywood, (AP)—Upon creative genius the motion picture industry pins its hope of continued success. Producers agree that originality is the fuel for the picture vehicle and creative minds must not be restrained by rules.

John McCormick, motion picture executive, declares that the screen's greatest hope for better entertainment lies with the writer who can bring to his work a freshness of ment. Directors, he says, who can interpolate human bits of business are the mainstay of production, and should never be hampered by a consciousness of studio regulations.

More than 100 pastors and laymen from Neenah, West Bend, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Appleton attended the fall regional meeting of the seven-year program of the Lutheran Synod of the Northwest which was held Wednesday at Trinity English Lutheran church. It was shown that if the membership of the Northwest Synod would increase in the next seven years as it has in the past seven years, there would be 43,000 members at the end of that period. The present membership is 23,000.

The meeting opened at 10 o'clock with a communion service conducted by the Rev. B. J. Stecker of Fond du Lac. He delivered a sermon on Our Task. He also was chairman of the afternoon meeting at which a paper on The Method was read by the Rev. W. C. Drahn of Oshkosh. The Rev. F. L. A Farm Auction Sale Must Be Well Advertised
To Be A Success

WHEN the farmer sets a date on which to dispose of his farm and personal property — it means that thousands of dollars worth of property must be disposed of in ONE SINGLE DAY.

THEREFORE it is of the utmost importance to reach all individuals who might be interested in some article or animal to be sold.

The Public Medium

best suited for this purpose in OUTAGAMIE and surrounding Counties is the APPLETON POST-CRESCENT

WHY?

- (1)—It reaches 9 out of every 10 rural homes in Outagamie and surrounding counties.
- (2)—Farmers are close readers and act promptly on advertising published in our "Auction" and "Poultry and Livestock" columns. (We see evidences of this every day.)
- (3)—The Post-Crescent is a medium that is welcomed in every home and thus carries its advertising message inside the home where it is read at leisure.
- (4)—No other advertising medium can broadcast the news of your sale so thoroughly over a large territory—and with such economy.

YOUR AUCTION SALE SHOULD BE ADVERTISED IN THE POST-CRESCENT AUCTION COLUMNS

DECORATE CITY FOR LAWRENCE PROGRAM

Elaborate Parade One of Features of Homecoming at College

Merchants of Appleton will be asked to decorate their store windows for the weekend of the Lawrence college homecoming celebration Saturday, Nov. 13. It was decided at a meeting of the committees in charge Wednesday night. The homecoming will be featured by the Lawrence-Carroll football game at the Whitely athletic field.

Two cups will be awarded for the most attractive floats in the parade to be held on Saturday morning, one to the sororities and fraternities entering cars, and one to the other organizations on the campus. A third cup will be given to the fraternity whose house has the most elaborate decorations. Miss Helen Norris of Manitowish, is chairman of the committee on decorations for the entire homecoming, including Army G for the dance Saturday evening, and arrangements for the parade and fraternity houses.

Letters have been sent to all of the college by the alumni secretary, A. P.

Class: And what is a spoiled baby dear teacher?"

Teacher: "A spoiled baby is one that doesn't belong to your family. There are many different ways of spoiling a child as there are immediate relatives, but the nicest way of being spoiled is by grandparents."

Class: "In what does the baby excel?"

Teacher: "In oratory. Many a man who knows ten different languages can't get a cigar for nothing, but the baby, who speaks only in scrambled letters, and doesn't know what he's saying when he says it, gets anything he wants and could get paid for accepting it if he insisted."

Class: "What is the difference between a baby and the dominion of Canada?"

Teacher: "Part of the time the baby is—oh, dear. There's the bell. Run along, dears, but be sure and come again."

KAUKAUNA-LITTLE CHUTE-KIMBERLY

NEARBY TOWNSBUSINESSMEN IN FAVOR OF ADDING HIGH SCHOOL GYMCity and School Needs Auditorium to Meet Modern Conditions

Kaukauna—A majority of Kaukauna business men and other prominent persons favor building the new high school auditorium and gymnasium just as soon as possible. This is the third year that the new high school plant has been in operation and it has been found to be unsatisfactory without an auditorium or gymnasium.

Superintendent James F. Cavanaugh favors building the auditorium in the spring. He has brought the matter up at meetings of the board of education and the Parent-Teacher's association and has found both bodies much in favor of building the auditorium at once. Conditions in school are such that the building is a necessity, it was said.

H. T. Runte, former president of the board of education and a member of the board, expressed himself as being greatly in favor of the building. "Kaukauna needs the building, not only for her high school, but for herself as well," Mr. Runte said. "The state board has demanded that we make repairs on both the Nicolet and Park school buildings to the extent of $15,000 or $20,000. The board has investigated these charges and in their own mind do not seem to think they are necessary. The state board has charged that the lighting system in each of these buildings is very poor, but the board has found that the lights are only used two hours a year and during the entire school year and they think it is a waste of money to install an entirely new lighting system. Perhaps if we get to work on the new auditorium the board will forget these other matters. I would like to see the new building built at once if it is at all possible."

Mayor W. C. Sullivan said: "There is not a chance of the building being built for some time to come. The city is bonded to capacity and where could the money come from?"

Otto Fiedler, Chicago and North-western agent in Kaukauna, said: "The building is an absolute necessity. We do not want to deny our children anything that it is possible to give them. They need the training a gymnasium affords them. By all means let's have the building if it is at all possible."

FOREST JUNCTION TO CONDUCT DAIRY SHOW

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—Next Monday evening, Nov. 8, at the Community hall the Krueger Bros. Elevator Co., will hold a dairy meeting at which a play entitled "Joe Guess Wins $1,000," is to be presented. Methods of better feeding and care of produce milk at a lower rate a gallon will be exhibited.

Miss Anna Loerke of Green Bay, visited her mother during the week.

MERCHANTS AGREE
TO CLOSE STORESCity Takes on Holiday Schedule for High School Football Game

Kaukauna—Stores in the city will close at noon on Armistice Day to enable employees to attend the Appleton-Kaukauna football game. This includes the north side stores as well as the south side ones. There have been many rumors circulating the city that the north side stores would not close but owners of these business places have made it clear that they will close at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of Armistice Day. Postmaster A. R. Mills will put Saturday operation rules into effect at the postoffice and this will enable several of the carriers and clerks to get off to attend the game. Carriers will wait until the 9 o'clock mail train is in and will make their delivery in the residential districts of the city. This will be the only delivery to that part of the city during the day and after that route is finished the carriers will make another delivery to the business men.

Coach William "Tiger" Smith had his team out for practice Friday morning. This was the last practice until Monday afternoon. All of the men are in good condition and need the short rest. There is plenty of scrap amongst members of the team, more so since the team has lost "Babe" Hishon. Coach Smith reported Thursday that Hishon would not be back in for the Appleton game.

Appleton Man Holds Out Hope For All Who Suffer From RheumatismSays Dreco Made Him Well and he Believes It Will Help Others.

There seldom has been a remedy so thoroughly grounded in the knowledge of what the sick body needs in stomach trouble, liver and kidney complaints, rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation and similar ills, than Dreco which is now being so successfully introduced by the Dreco Expert at Schlicht Bros. Drug Store. It is the result of investigation and close study and is recommended as the greatest system invigorant and body reconstructant that has come to light. People are daily testifying to its merits.

Mr. Richard Werner, 427 So. River St., this city, an employee of the Fox River Mills, says:

"When I started on Dreco I had rheumatism so bad I cried out in pain. My joints were sore and painful and so stiff that at times they seemed to creak like the rusty hinges of an old barn door. My liver was also very bad

KIMBERLY DRAMATIC CLUB ADMITS 6 NEW MEMBERS AT MEETPlans to Present Late Dramatic Productions in Several Cities

Special to Post-Crescent
Kimberly—The Kimberly Dramatic club held a meeting Wednesday evening at the clubhouse. Six new members, Alvina Courchane, Betty Coppen, Lauretta Thein, Ardel Couillard, Charles Behling and Edward Courchane, joined the club. Plans were made for presenting the latest dramatic production in several outside cities and villages, as the comedy was played to large crowds Sunday and Monday evenings, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, at the clubhouse. The club also voted to reduce the membership age minimum from eighteen to sixteen years. Due to the fact that there is considerable musical talent among the members, organizing a club orchestra is being considered. Preparations for another play which will be given the first part of January were made. The meeting was well attended.

P. A. Paulsen, general superintendent of the sulphite mills of the Kimberly-Clark company has presented the Kimberly club with a beautiful moose head. The head is considered one of the best of its kind, and was placed over the fireplace in the lobby of the clubhouse.

The steam and electrical departments of the Kimberly-Clark mill have classes Thursday evenings at the clubhouse. James Olson is in charge of the steam class, and Harry Du Pont is in charge of the electrical class.

A number of the members of the local branch of Royal Neighbors attended the meeting of the Appleton branch at Appleton Thursday evening. A group of friends pleasantly surprised Miss Arline Bralnard Monday evening at her home in honor of her birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing. EVERYONE LIKES
THIS COLD CURE

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends a cold or gripe in a few hours

Your cold will break and all gripe misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as Pape's Cold Compound, which costs only thirty-five cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

Christian Science Lecture

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: THE REVELATION OF OUT TRUTH

by A. Hervey-Bathurst, C. S. B. of London, England

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Nearly twenty centuries ago a momentous question—"What is truth?"—was asked by a man whose name has been handed down to posterity because he sat in judgment on "the most scientific man that ever trod the globe," as Mrs. Eddy refers to Jesus in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 313). Is not that same question still being asked as it is by the millions of unsatisfied or dissatisfied people today?

THE DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Let me say, however, that the number of dissatisfied people is decreasing; and the decrease commenced sixty years ago when Christian Science, or the Science of Knowledge of the Christ, Truth, was revealed to a waiting and hungry world by a refined, cultured, and above all, spiritually-minded woman, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

Mrs. Eddy was of English and Scottish descent. Her parents lived in Concord and Bow, New Hampshire, and were respected citizens of New England, that part of the United States of America where the discovery was to be made which has already brought health and happiness, the true concept of heaven or home, to some millions of wanderers in the dreary desert of doubt and despair.

It is interesting to note that the courageous stand which Lincoln took against slavery—his determination to free the slaves of the South, and the passing of the legislation which ensured that freedom to so many human beings—was closely followed by the discovery of Christian Science by Mrs. Eddy. In the one case, human beings were being liberated from slavery; in the other case, however, mankind is being freed from the bondage of sick or discordant beliefs, taskmasters far more relentless than were ever any slave-owners. I doubt if any of us can fully appreciate what it meant to stand amidst the gibes and taunts of mankind—in Lincoln's case against the hated and opposition of what might be defined as the vested interests; or those who could only interpret Lincoln's action as implying disaster and failure for them.

In the case of the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, however, we have that noble woman, Mary Baker Eddy, standing alone in the face of the universe of being mankind, in the face of opposition greater and fiercer than had been faced by any since Jesus' time, determined to give to the world that which was to reform religion, replace ceremony and ritual by the fruits of spiritual regeneration and physical healing. Her discovery was so vast and was to be of such far-reaching effect that her experience has never been equaled since the Founder of Christianity, Jesus the Christ, taught and practiced in Galilee. Yet Mrs. Eddy was not alone, for she was doing her duty, her Father's will, and therefore working with His support, sustained by the supporting arm of divine Love. Mrs. Eddy had always been an earnest and devoted student of the Bible. From childhood she had studied the sacred volume—always with a desire to know God better and to do His will.

The story of Mrs. Eddy's discovery of Christian Science is now quite generally known. At a time when it was expected that the effects of the accident from which she was suffering would prove fatal, Mrs. Eddy begged to be left alone. She turned to the Bible and read that well-known passage in Matthew 9 where the Master healed the man sick of the palsy and said to him, "Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house." Not only did Mrs. Eddy read the words, she understood the deep spiritual meaning of that statement; in other words, recognized and demonstrated man's God-given dominion or freedom, and rose from her bed healed. So sudden and surprising was the occurrence, that when she walked into the adjoining room those assembled there thought they beheld an apparition.

THE DISCOVERY

What was it that Mrs. Eddy discovered or that was revealed to her in answer to prayer in that experience? It was the truth of being. Was it not the fulfillment, in a measure, of that statement of the Master, "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free?" Trust that you will recall during the time at our disposal how Christian Science has revealed the truth which still makes free, a free not only from all the ills that flesh is heir to, but which provides the solution for all the problems with which mankind is now, or ever may be, faced. My friends, that truth is available for all of us here and now, if we will accept it.

HEALING THROUGH CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Way-shower showed us how to get rid of the belief in sickness. He knew and was able to demonstrate the truth, the knowledge of which he declared would make us free. As Jesus showed, so in Christian Science, the healing is not the result of wrestling with belief in sickness as something real to be overcome. The healing in Christian Science is brought about through the demonstrable knowledge of the truth. As we rouse ourselves to realize the truth revealed by Christian Science, we understand that, after all, the teaching of Jesus is not only true, but demonstrable, we are in a position to refute those erroneous statements, thoughts or suggestions to the effect that man is sick or controlled by sin. These things which are incomprehensible to the carnal mind prove unfailingly, the sick are healed, the sinner is reformed. We have the evidence of this healing, constructive work in the rapidly increasing number of Christian Science churches springing up all over the world.

Good and evil, complete opposites, cannot both be true and is not man-made, continually struggling to obtain good; and does not the concept of good vary according to the character or the spirituality of the individual?

Every man desires good; but how does the human concept of good vary? Good, or God, is immutable, infinite, cannot change. Christian Science reveals the summum bonum, that heaven "at hand" the Master described, and shows us also how to attain it.

Christian Science is universal or universally applicable. There is no situation or condition in which you may ever find yourselves where Christian Science, or the Science of Knowledge of the truth, cannot be demonstrated. Therefore, Christian Science is just as effective in healing social ills as it is in healing physical disorders. Why is dissatisfaction sometimes expressed among certain sections of the labor world? Because it seems to them that what is right or good is afar off, not available. Now, where is good, or God? Ever-present, omnipresent, God, or good, is the only presence. Then what is the remedy? It is to know the truth, that is, God's omnipresence, in a scientific and demonstrable manner. Ah! one might say, That sounds simple, but you do not know what it is to work as a fitter in a factory with no opportunity to air one's legitimate grievances in the proper quarters. It so happens that I, too, have been a fitter, and I know that the mere airing of legitimate grievances may not be sufficient; it frequently is not, because of the limited vision or spiritual understanding of the masters or governing bodies. The fitter at the bench, the machine hand, or the director will only succeed, not as each looks to man or man-made methods or rules for success, but as they each look to God and recognize and demonstrate His government. Men may, and very frequently do, err in their judgment so long as it is based merely upon human conjecture or opinion. On the other hand, be it a director or mechanic who is listening for, and in so far as he is able, following, God's guidance, he inevitably succeeds. And at this point, I want to say that no one individual man is subject to or controlled by another. At the same time, Christian Science does not advocate lawlessness; on the contrary, Christian Science teaches us how to be really law-abiding citizens in the strictest sense of the word. What I want to show is that to the extent that one understands the truth about God and man to that extent does he demonstrate his true nature, his freedom, his Godlikeness. God's law, the law of good, is now and ever operative, protecting, guiding, and sustaining you, me, here, now, in the factory, in the office, at home, always. We need only to understand that fact. It is, so, let us recognize it, rejoice, and be grateful.

Thus it is evident that by revealing the real equality of man as the image and likeness of God, or idea in divine Mind, Christian Science has revealed to this age the truth about government, or the true idea of government—true democracy. Christian Science reveals the iniquity of autocratic control, and also explains the fallacy of the destructive, chaotic systems so frequently offered as panaceas to-day. Christian Science reveals the true remedy for human ills, and it demands the practicing of pure Christianity.

PRAYER

Some one may be thinking, perhaps, that this certainly gives food for thought and opens up a wonderful vision; but how can I avail myself of the freedom and dominion the application of such teaching must bring with it? The answer is: Through prayer. Mrs. Eddy states in that remarkable chapter on "Prayer" in Science and Health (p. 1), "Desire is prayer." She states also that "no loss can occur from trusting God with our desires; that they may be moulded and exalted before they take form in words and in deeds."

In my experience, as in the experience of innumerable others, one of the greatest blessings and revelations of Christian Science is the realization of the truth that we are all one, and that we are all in the hands of the Father.

tions of Christian Science is the understanding of how to pray aright. You may be thinking perhaps, What is there to pray about, if God, Principle, the divine Mind, is infinite, all, and man is His expression or reflection? The answer is that just so long as there is any belief in the presence, power, or effect of evil, it will be necessary to pray without ceasing. Prayer is not only the desire for a knowledge of the truth, but it also exemplifies or demonstrates it.

For example, suppose you understand something about Christian Science and have demonstrated the truth of what you understand by healing yourself of some physical troubles, and then some one comes to you and says, "I am suffering and want you to help me; I want you to give me a Christian Science treatment. You have learned at least something of the truth regarding God and man, and by reason of your understanding you can prove or demonstrate it. In asking for treatment, the patient is reaching out for Truth, his honest desire is prayer, but it is probably rather along the lines of blind faith. The Christian Science treatment given by the Christian Science practitioner would be prayer based upon understanding—the understanding of the truth about God, and man as the reflection of God. That knowledge of the truth frees, because it destroys the erroneous or false belief about man, and the patient is healed. Recognizing, affirming, and demonstrating these divine facts about God, man, and the universe constitutes prayer."

"Prayer is the heart's sincere desire. Uttered or unexpressed. The motion of a hidden fire That trembles in the breast."

"Prayer is the simplest form of speech. That infant lips can try: Prayer the sublimest strains that reach The Majesty on high."

The Christian's native air: His watchword overcometh death—He enters heaven with prayer."

All down the centuries mankind have prayed. T. A. Master said, "When ye pray, believe that ye receive." Do people generally pray in that way today? Do you think we are justified in telling God what to do, or in asking Him to do some specific thing? It follows, therefore, that to the extent that our desire is honest will that prayer be answered. Now, if we honestly desire to do God's will and not our own, we shall be able to discern what that will is, and then we shall have the ability to obey. The first verse of Mrs. Eddy's hymn, "Shepherd, show me how to go" (Poems, p. 14), will be necessary to pray without ceasing. Prayer is not only the desire for a knowledge of the truth, but it also exemplifies or demonstrates it.

is the willingness expressed to listen for God's voice or guidance. It surely follows, then, that if we are determined to listen for God's voice, we will refuse to listen to the arguments or suggestions of evil or error. Also listening for God's voice we must certainly hear it,—that infinite voice of Truth. Then follows that culminating statement or determination, "I will follow and rejoice;" that is, the willingness to be obedient, and being obedient we have good reason to rejoice as the natural result of following God's guidance, or doing as God does, by reflection. Thus, the only responsibility we have is to free ourselves from the belief in a selfishhood apart from God, and so be in a position to rejoice because God takes the responsibility, and we can with grateful God-given heritage or unity with our Father-Mother-God.

Dare we,—have you or I the audacity to attempt to tell the Deity what to do or when to do it? Has not that, however, been the general practice for many centuries? Let us be logical and recognize, affirm and be grateful for, the fact that God's work is perfect. We need to improve our feeble concept of God, man, and the universe. The desire to know more of God is prayer, and that prayer is answered. Then the false beliefs as to the presence or reality of evil vanish,—die of their own inanition; the rewards. Remember, nothing in God's creation can ever be changed; but of concept of it must certainly be, and is being changed. Then why delay? When shall we begin, if not now? Reality is true at this moment, as you and I are the better for considering these divine facts.
